CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

The export of clothing from India ended the year at USD 14.7 billion (last year was USD 12.7 billion), a growth of nearly 16%. Besides, another encouraging sign was that the dominance of the US and the EU, as share of pie in export of clothing has been diluted, with India's exports to other markets having increased faster than to the US and EU. India had a market share of 3.7% of world trade in clothing during the financial year.

Looking forward, even if conservatively India continued to grow at 15% CAGR, our exports could cross US$ 60 billion within the next decade. A stable Government with the vision and capabilities is in place, which is expected to be more decisive in policy formulation and to show greater efficiency in its execution, which would result in India's weaknesses, especially its cost disabilities, being addressed swiftly. If the country's strengths are unleashed, we can build a sustainable and responsible growth and exports could well grow at a faster rate than 15% CAGR and perhaps they could even cross US$ 100 billion in the next decade, if we become future ready.

The EU showed feeble signs of coming to life, with the UK and Germany leading the path to recovery. In the US, as of now, there is only nominal growth in retail sales.

The clothing industry is facing tremendous volatility in demand, as well as in exchange rates (of a kind that is unprecedented), a stubbornly high inflation rate with increasing cotton fabric prices. Despite this, the company's order books have been healthy consistently, stemming partly from the relatively weaker Rupee, and mainly from the problems of our competitor countries, viz. Bangladesh, China, Vietnam and Myanmar.

The branded business has also seen unprecedented volatility in consumer demand, stemming mainly from the economic, social and political crises the country faced. There have been months where the turnover has been almost 50% higher, but then there have been months when it has been upto over 10% lower. The festive season, i.e., November and December 2013 and January 2014 were extremely subdued compared to the previous year, when sales post-Diwali grew very sharply. Given the market scenario and the fact that the company continues its policy of not discounting, offering soft terms or freebies, the business has still grown in double digits in every channel, viz. MBO, national chains, own retail (which grew both like-to-like and overall, i.e. including all stores).

As of 31st March 2014, the company had 113 stores. 11 new stores were opened, and 2 non-performing stores were closed, with a net increase of 9 stores during the year. The strategy of investing in the growth of the company's own retail business continues to be pursued with conservative aggressiveness.

The competition presented a mixed picture, despite their policy of discounting, easy terms and freebies which resulted in some of them recording higher sales growth.

Consumer demand has improved with the new stable Government reviving the "feel good" factor. When this gains momentum, the cycle of higher demand, increased investment, manufacturing and a return to sustained, balanced growth of GDP, will build a sustainable healthy demand. The outlook for the branded (India's market) business is, therefore, positive.

The evolution of organised retail in India continues at a healthy pace. However, it will need stronger growth of organised retail to address the spurt in consumer demand when that happens. For organised retail to grow, the availability of retail space at international pricing on commercially fair terms is essential. The unhealthy trend of most mall developers reserving their ground floor shops for foreign brands (a lot of which are pseudo brands, far inferior to the better Indian brands) has to be corrected, because relegating Indian brands to locations on upper floors where only 40% of the consumers entering the mall traverse, is anti-national and shameful, besides shortchanging our national champions and country as a result.

It has been an extremely challenging year, despite which the performance of the company has been commendable, both in terms of growth of the top line and the bottom line. The sales in the branded business as well as in the design-driven international business have grown in double digits. Net profit on a Standalone basis has risen 35% (despite higher provision for taxation due to a lower element of dividend from subsidiaries), and on a Consolidated basis by 57%.

The UAE Subsidiary, which had been facing challenges with regard to replenishment of its workforce who return home on completion of their contracts, has been rectified to a large extent. The result of this should become visible further down the road.

I am happy to inform you that ICRA has yet again reaffirmed the company's rating of A1+ for its short term fund based/non-fund based facilities, which have been increased to ₹ 8,000 lakhs (₹ 7,000 lakhs earlier). ICRA has also reaffirmed the company's rating of A1+ for Commercial Paper ₹ 2,000 lakhs.

A1 is the highest credit quality rating assigned by ICRA to short term debt instruments, which carry the lowest credit risk in the short term. Within this category, certain instruments are assigned the rating of A1+ to reflect their relatively stronger credit quality.

The export of clothing from India is on the cusp of a major opportunity for the third time in the last decade. The first two opportunities passed India by for reasons I have shared with you in the past. The opportunity emerging because of Bangladesh, China, Vietnam and Myanmar being under pressure, the somewhat weakening of the Rupee to a more competitive level and the possibility of some further depreciation, the green shoots in some of the major traditional markets for India, and finally, the major step (in its nascent stage) of developing other markets and moving away from the dominance of cotton clothing, are very healthy trends. All this needs to be harvested by the industry in tandem with the business-friendly new Government, whose goal is to achieve a steep growth in manufacturing (25% of GDP from 15%) to generate employment on a large scale.

Since the objective of the industry and the new Government converge, one is very hopeful that this time India will not miss the bus in capturing its rightful share in global trade in clothing since it is the only country, besides China, that has the full clothing chain from fibre to fashion.

The industry looks forward to the Government negotiating zero tariffs, fast tracking of FTA with the EU which has been delayed inordinately, negotiating lower tariffs from countries like the US, who are profoundly interested in capturing the interest of India's burgeoning young, middle class (which is set to grow aggressively in the years to come) as well as addressing the cost disabilities the industry faces.

The Board has recommended for the shareholders' approval, a dividend of ₹ 4.50 per equity share of the face value of ₹ 10 on the paid-up capital of ₹ 19,38,99,980. The dividend pay out ratio is in line with some of the best.

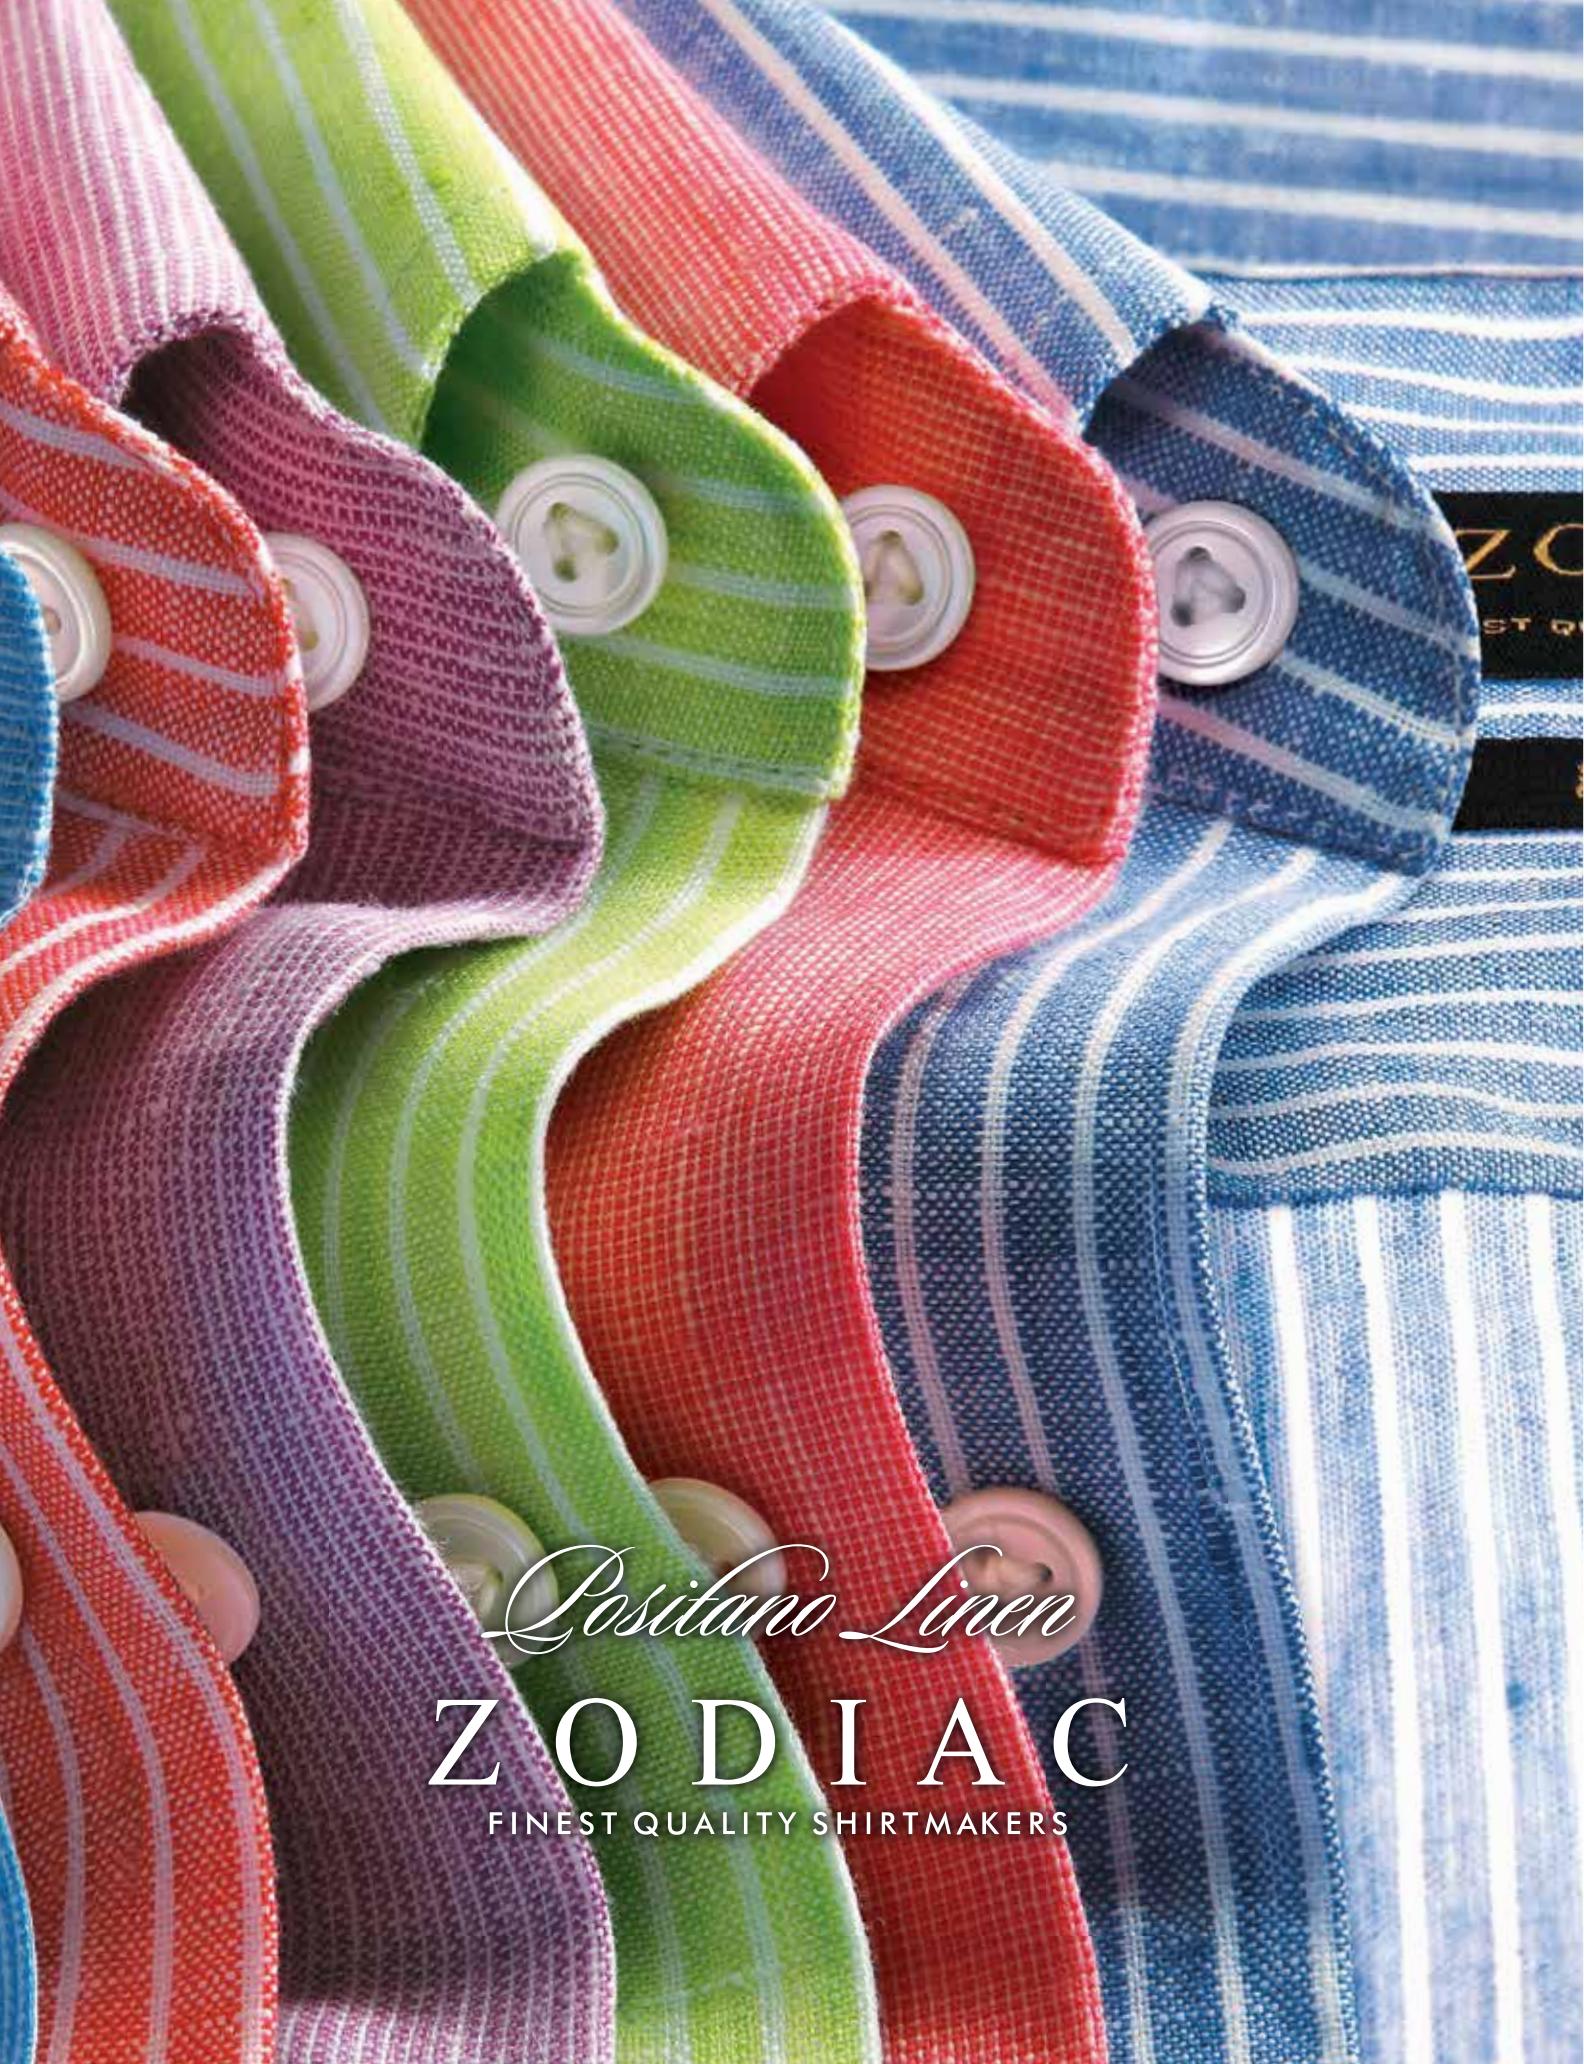

My sincere thanks to all our stakeholders - our customers, shareholders, the Government, banks, solicitors, consultants, distributors, suppliers and other business associates who have all lent their fullest co-operation to the company, especially during these turbulent times.

My grateful thanks to our valued Board of Directors for their wise counsel and value-led, purpose-driven guidance, which contribute immensely to the company, both in terms of profitability, as well as its benchmarking to the highest standards of Corporate Governance.

To our employees at all levels, my compliments and thanks for their excellent performance, strong work ethic, teamwork, solidarity and commitment to the company, which has helped sustain the company's performance during this volatile period.

I thank you for the confidence and trust consistently reposed in our organisation throughout. We will continue to strive towards attaining the company's goals.

DIRECTORS' REPORT TO THE MEMBERS

To,
The Members,
Zodiac Clothing Company Limited.

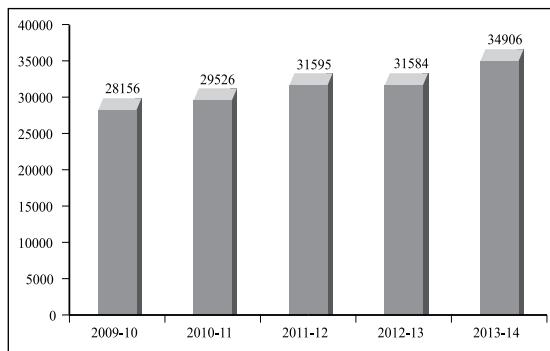

Your Directors hereby present the 30th Annual Report with the Audited Statements of Accounts for the Financial Year ended 31st March 2014.

1. BUSINESS:

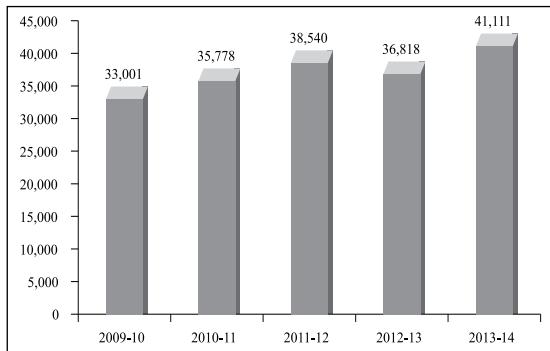

Operational Revenue & Profits – During the financial year ended 31st March 2014, the operational revenue of the company on a Standalone basis increased to ₹ 34,906 lakhs from ₹ 31,584 lakhs (Net of Excise duty for both years to ₹ 34,851 lakhs from ₹ 30,763 lakhs, i.e. an increase of ₹ 4,088 lakhs i.e. 13.28%) Profit Before Tax was ₹ 2,217 lakhs vs. ₹ 1,598 lakhs in the previous year, while the net Profit After Tax for the financial year ended 31st March 2014 was ₹ 1,493 lakhs vs. ₹ 1,105 lakhs in the previous year.

On a Consolidated basis the operational revenue of the company increased to ₹ 41,111 lakhs from ₹ 36,818 lakhs (Net of Excise to ₹ 41,056 lakhs from ₹ 35,997 lakhs, i.e. an increase of ₹ 5,059 lakhs i.e. 14.05%). The Consolidated Profit Before Tax rose to ₹ 3,053 lakhs vs. ₹ 2,016 lakhs the previous year, the Net Profit being ₹ 2,200 lakhs vs. ₹ 1,401 lakhs the previous year.

OPERATIONAL REVENUE - STANDALONE

OPERATIONAL REVENUE - CONSOLIDATED

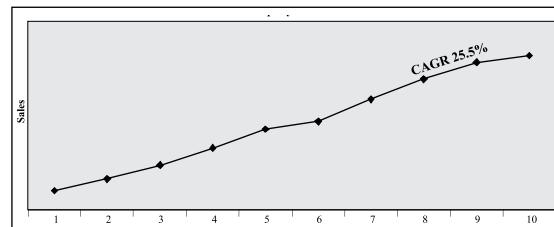

The volatility faced during the year in consumer demand (impacting the branded business) and exchange rate fluctuations (impacting both the branded business and the design-driven international business), has been unprecedented.

The turnover has been volatile in the branded business (from 42% - 46% plus in certain months, to minus 9% - 14% in some months) due to the political, economic and social situation in the country; this has impacted all channels (with November/December 2013 and January 2014 being extremely subdued). There is also a base effect here, because turnover last year post-Diwali grew very sharply.

The branded business showed an increase of 13% (like-to-like, i.e. eliminating the Excise set off because Excise Duty was withdrawn from March 2013). Given the market scenario, and the fact that the company continues to not discount or offer soft terms on the Zodiac, ZOD! and Z3 brands, that is no mean achievement. Sales at mark down expressed as a percentage of total sales during the year was insignificant. This was a direct consequence of very tight stock control and extensive use of business intelligence and other analytics solutions. There has been growth across the MBO/National Chains/Own Retail (which grew both like-to-like, as well as overall, i.e. including new stores). The share of pie of MBOs and National Chains has increased, although in rupee terms, all channels grew.

As of 31st March 2014, the company had 113 stores. 11 new stores were opened and 2 were closed during the year, a net increase of 9 stores. 2 existing stores were refurbished. In keeping with its strategy of connecting direct to consumers (versus a franchise network where the company would be in the wholesale business and not in the retail business). The company has continued to invest in its own retail store chain with conservative aggression.

COMPANY OWNED RETAIL STORES

Own store sales, although growing, did not grow as per expectations due to the volatility in demand and the cost of negative sentiment, as also the country's political, economic and social problems. There was extreme volatility month-to-month, making planning extremely challenging.

The competition (our segment) presents a mixed picture, despite their policy of discounting on easy terms and freebies, which has resulted in their sales growth being higher in some cases.

The business with National Chains (+17%) as well as MBOs (+18%) grew in double digits in percentage terms. Own Retail grew at 10% over last year, the share of pie being 54.82% vs 56.68% last year. Total Branded Sales were up by 13.31%.

For Q1 2014-15 the order books for all 3 brands, Zodiac, ZOD! and Z3 look very healthy based on bookings for Summer 2014.

The outlook for the branded business, including the Company's own retail stores, looks most promising in the medium to long term, with a stable, business-friendly government at the helm after 3 decades.

In the design driven international business, the exchange rate has fluctuated from ₹ 68.36 (High August 2013) to ₹ 53.71 (Low May 2013) and ended the year at ₹ 59.92 per USD, which kind of volatility was unseen hitherto. Despite this, the order books have been healthy consistently. The quantity exported from India was plus 2% (Value ₹ 156 crores, i.e. plus 13%, and in USD terms, USD 26.7 million plus 3%). From the UAE the quantity exported was flat., and in terms of Value AED 419 lakhs, (3% increase), and USD 114 lakhs, (3% increase). The order books for the design driven international business continue to be healthy.

We have been able to successfully re-build relations with our customer in Latin America, but we have still to make a breakthrough with new customers there. The situation in the UK, which had hit rock bottom, seems to be slowly correcting itself with substantial growth (from the turnover with them in the last few years) evolving from a large customer in the UK. Overall, the EU is still subdued, but we have been able to increase business substantially with a major account in Germany, with whom business had fallen to insignificant levels. The situation in the US is stable.

This business has been extremely challenging due to the economic situation in the company's markets. The EU is still feeble, the UK is on the road to recovery, and the US is improving better than other markets, but in fits and starts and not at any remarkable pace. There was also an impact of the extremely volatile exchange rate, inflation in India and the increase in prices of cotton fabric. The more favourable exchange rates (for a brief period) during the year were captured, to some extent, by virtue of the company's Forex Policy, and this business was more profitable.

In order to recognise the impact of fluctuation in foreign currency rates arising out of derivative instruments acquired to hedge highly probable transactions and firm commitments in appropriate accounting periods, the company has been consistently applying the principles of hedge accounting set out in the Accounting Standard 30. "Financial Instruments:Recognition and Measurement" issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India, whereby the impact of net unrealised losses (or gains) of derivative instruments are carried as Hedging Reserve to be ultimately set off in the Statement of Profit & Loss when the underlying transaction is recognised.

2. RESULTS OF OPERATIONS:

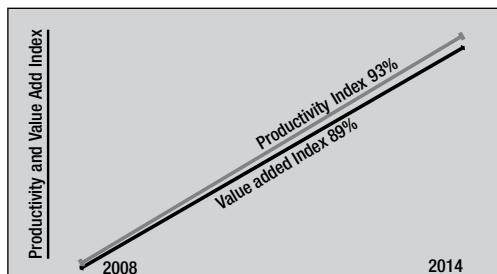

FINANCIAL RESULTS:		(₹ in Lakhs)
		Standalone		Consolidated
		2013-14	2012-13	2013-14	2012-13
Total Revenue from operations (Net)	34,851	30,763		41,056	35,997
PROFIT BEFORE TAXATION	2,217	1,598		3,053	2,016
Provision for Taxation:
Current Tax	642	406		771	528
Deferred Tax	82	86		82	86
PROFIT AFTER TAXATION	1,493	1,106		2,200	1,402
Balance of Profit Brought forward	10,258	10,036		15,834	15,480
Transfer from General Reserves	-	-		-	0
Profit Available for Appropriation	11,784	11,142		18,067	16,882

With effect from 1st April 2013, non-derivative financial liabilities in the form of Preshipment Export Credit on Foreign Currency (PCFC) borrowings have also been designated as hedging instruments to hedge the highly probable forecast sales in foreign currency, consequent to a decision of the Board, in consultation with the Auditors. This resulted in a PCFC loss of ₹ 84 lakhs being carried to Hedging Reserves at the end of the year, instead of being accounted for in the Profit & Loss Account, as in the past. We believe this reflects the true result more faithfully.

As a direct fallout of the 2008 crisis the company formed a task force to relook at all the existing systems and processes, in many cases rebuilding them from scratch, with a significant use of next generation information technology. We are pleased to inform you that this has yielded positive results.

The Standalone PBT increased by ₹ 619 lakhs, through cost reduction/control, despite the increase in rentals and other consequential costs (in pursuance of the focus on own retail). This is most heartening, given the market situation.

PRODUCTIVITY INDEX & VALUE ADDED INDEX %

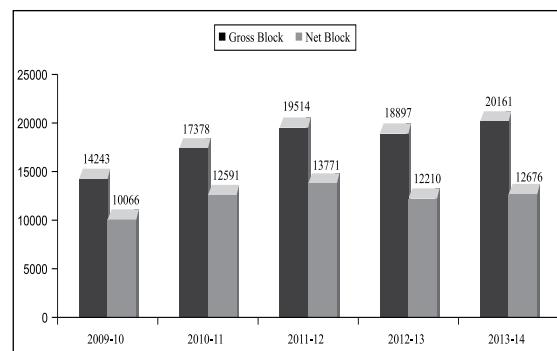

The inadequacy of workers in the UAE Unit has been resolved to a large extent. The impact of this would become visible in the next few quarters.

Finance costs (Standalone) as a percentage of turnover have risen marginally, 0.62% (LY 0.53%). This is because of the high forward premiums paid to hedge our foreign currency borrowings under Buyers Credit and FCNRB, in line with company policy to minimise risk.

Tax expenses have also risen because last year's income contained a higher element of dividend from subsidiaries (which was tax free from the Indian subsidiary and at a lower rate of 15% from the overseas subsidiary), which dividend has been lower this year. The operating profitability has increased significantly, which is very gratifying.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS

A. OVERVIEW

Because of the economic, political and social turbulence during the year, the demand situation for the branded clothing industry in India continued to be most volatile, with the first two quarters showing healthy growth; however, the third and fourth quarters showed large swings, resulting in the year ending with double-digit growth, which could otherwise have been even higher.

The industry continues to be in distress due to inventories built in anticipation of the growth witnessed in the first two quarters continuing, or increasing further during the festive season, which did not hold true to promise. Because of this, the industry had to continue its policy of luring customers with freebies, discounting, etc. Those companies who lured customers thus, were able to show slightly higher growth than the brands from the House of Zodiac, which does not discount/offer freebies or soft terms, because we believe the consumer will spend on brands which fulfill his aspirations.

Projections by several respected entities show that the consumer sentiment is poised to turn positive due to there being a stable Government strongly committed to address the country's problems, particularly the economic malaise. More decisiveness in Government policy formulation, as well as greater efficiency in its execution would work wonders. With the Current Account Deficit and Fiscal Deficit having fallen from their alarming levels, hopefully the new Government would be able to consolidate these gains further. There is widespread anticipation of a revival of demand due to the "feel good" factor, which would trigger the cycle of higher growth in investment, manufacturing, etc, resulting in the return to sustained, balanced growth in the country's GDP.

The evolution of organised retail in India, notwithstanding the open position with regard to 100% FDI in multi-brand retail, continue apace. There is a consequential impact of this on independent retailers as well, some of whom are turning increasingly professional in their approach.

For the branded business to grow at a healthy pace (it seems as though consumer demand could be unleashed in the near future) will need even stronger growth in organised retail, which can happen only with the availability of real estate at international pricing on commercially fair terms, which is not the case today. Besides, there is an unhealthy, growing trend with most mall developers to reserve their ground floor shops for so called "foreign" brands, (some of which are fifth rate) and relegate Indian brands to locations on higher floors where only 40% of the consumers entering the mall reach. Often, commercial terms also are heavily slanted in favour of foreign brands. It is indeed a national shame that Indian brands are being treated in this unfair manner, which needs immediate corrective action.

GST, which is eagerly awaited across industries has yet to be rolled out.

Internationally, in the largest single market, i.e. the EU, there are early signs of small improvement, though this has yet to gain momentum. The UK seems to be, along with Germany, on a more strident path to recovery. In the US, contrary to the rhetoric one encounters in the media, the market is stable with nominal growth in retail sales.

Some of India's competitor countries in clothing export viz. Bangladesh, Vietnam, Myanmar, as well as China, have been under pressure for varying reasons. In Bangladesh the several accidents of 2013 established that on safety requirements Bangladesh has been thoroughly negligent, besides not being compliant with other standards required by international buyers. There was labour unrest due to this, as well as due to their struggle for higher wages (which were eventually increased in November 2013 to US$ 60/- per month from US$ 33/- per month). Similarly, there has been labour unrest in Myanmar for a living wage. In Vietnam, because of problems with China over disputed territorial waters in the south China Sea, several Chinese-owned factories were destroyed in the resultant protests in Vietnam. The situation in China continues in the direction of diversion of production increasingly to their internal market, and paucity of workers willing to work in the industry. All this, coupled with the relatively weaker Rupee (which ended the financial year a tad below ₹60/- per US$), has driven the importing countries to turn to India for stability, compliant production facilities and dependable deliveries.

The export of clothing from India ended the year at US$ 14.7 billion, i.e. growth of approximately 8%. The other encouraging trend was that the dominance of the EU and the US in the import of clothing from India has been diluted considerably, with India's exports to other markets having increased notably as a share of pie. India achieved 3.7% of world trade of clothing during the financial year.

The export of clothing from India, even if it grew at a conservative pace of 15% CAGR, could cross over US$ 60 billion within the next decade. In fact, with a stable Government in place, if India's weaknesses are addressed swiftly, and the strengths the country has are unleashed, the export could grow at a faster rate of CAGR than 15% and perhaps, even cross US$ 100 billion in the next decade. This, of course, will require Government and industry to work in unison to sharpen India's competitiveness.

Some of the benefits Bangladesh enjoys are preferential tariffs, ease of import of raw material (i.e. fabric and accessories) with no licencing, fast track custom clearance, no obligation to show voluminous proof at multiple points that the raw materials imported have, in fact, been converted into clothing and exported, no levy of taxes like octroi, sales tax, excise duty (which, in India, are never fully reimbursed by duty drawback, which also is paid with huge delays and often not paid in full); higher productivity, simple labour laws (often woefully inadequate) and no perverse/draconian enforcement of laws by rent-seeking officialdom: industry-friendly project licencing with swift single-point clearances (Bangladesh ranks higher than India in the Ease of Doing Business Index (World Bank-June 2013), cost of funds at international pricing available on tap and not adding to the complexity of multiple laws by introduction of laws, which are not fully thought out (like the Companies Act, 2013 in India). In India, a lot of these can be addressed forthwith, while rectifying infrastructural disabilities would take a little longer. The industry will also need Government policy to be announced well in time, as clothing sales contracts are signed several months forward.

While exchange rates can largely be hedged forward, delays in renewal of Special Focus Market Scheme and Market-Linked Focus Product Scrip (which lapsed at the close of the financial year and have not yet been renewed), are highly detrimental. Meanwhile, the Rupee has strengthened and an early announcement of the continuance of this Scheme is vital to see that the momentum gained in recent months is not lost.

B. INDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENT

While the situation in the two large markets is yet to offer the possibility of substantial growth, India has gained by virtue of market share conceded by competing countries in those markets. While the industry has captured some of the opportunities presented by new markets such as the Middle East and Latin America, only a small beginning has been made. India needs to consolidate its feeble gains into a truly dominant position, as had been achieved by China a decade ago. There is no other country in the world (besides India and China), which has the complete textile chain from fibre to fashion, and this advantage has to be harvested fully. We have lost two major opportunities for quantum growth during the last decade, and it is imperative this opportunity is not lost as well.

While India cannot compete with low-wage countries (with human rights/safety violations and unfair labour practices) huge productivity gains are possible. Combined with favourable tariffs in the importing countries (which must be locked up post haste), India's textile industry has to step up its pace of modernisation to be able to cater to the increased demand from the clothing industry with world class quality of fabric at internationally competitive pricing. Besides, the licencing procedure, i.e. Advance Licence, has to be scrapped, and the processes followed by competitor countries (where despite there being no licencing for import of raw material, there is an adequate, painless process in place to eliminate malpractices), has to be replicated.

The "export" of India's taxes needs to be eliminated. A mechanism to fully insulate the exporter of the need to first pay taxes and then claim reimbursement, and wait months to receive an inadequate refund, needs to be put in place forthwith. Alternatively, if payment of taxes cannot be eliminated in the first instance, a seamless disbursement of drawback in full, of all taxes paid - Central as well as State - in a time-bound manner (without arbitrary deductions and without needless correspondence claiming repayment of drawback disbursed on frivolous grounds), must be prioritised.

The clarification with regard to non-deduction of TDS on commission on export sales paid to a person not resident in India, is still to be notified. This has caused severe hardship in terms of litigation, increased costs and loss of liquidity pending conclusion of litigation. This is a national waste.

The way forward clearly is to achieve (a) reduction in cost and (b) increase in unit value realisation in Phase I, and time to market/transit time from India in Phase II.

Cost Audit required by companies with a turnover of over ₹100 crores (US$ 16 million) is something which needs to be done away with if we have to look at achieving US$ 60 – 100 billion exports from the clothing industry. One looks forward to expeditious action on this from the Government.

C. OPPORTUNITIES AND THREATS

The opportunity that presents itself by virtue of the situation in Bangladesh, Vietnam, Myanmar, as well as in China, is truly most promising as these competitor countries would yield market share as they have done in the latter months of the last financial year.

The other opportunity which needs to be crystallised, is that of zero/preferential tariffs from countries to which our major clothing exports are directed, and putting on fast track the FTA with the EU. There are other countries like the US, who are lusting for the opportunity to cater to India's burgeoning middle class, which is set to grow for years to come. They could certainly be persuaded, if India sought a quid pro quo, to lower tariffs on exports of clothing from India to their country.

The Rupee is not very highly over-valued, but there is still scope for further depreciation according to experts on Forex, which is necessary to sharpen our competitiveness.

The emerging trend of India's export of clothing to new markets continuing to grow as a share of pie is another opportunity yet to be fully captured, as we have made only a small beginning in these new markets, when viewed from the global perspective, as well as from the potential of those markets..

While the export of clothing has diversified from being predominantly of cotton, to a greater share of pie for man made fibre clothing and other "fabric" (which would include linen and silk), there is potential for further gains in the non-cotton segment.

The threat posed by the forecast of a weak monsoon and consequential rise in the already high rate of inflation, would have a cascading effect. This is a serious threat.

We are almost in the middle of the decade which has been projected to be the decade of volatility globally. There is an opinion which talks of the possibility of a Lehman-type event looming, which could cause turmoil in the financial markets. We have to be prepared to deal with, were it to occur.

Our cost disabilities, discussed at length, continue to be a major threat.

D. SEGMENT WISE / PRODUCT WISE PERFORMANCE

Our segments are reviewed in terms of the relevant Accounting Standards, with focus on the differential risks and returns of these segments, bearing in mind the organisation structure.

Particulars	India	Rest of the World	Total
Segment Revenue (Net)	19,226	15,625	34,851
Carrying Cost of Segment Asset	26,420	2,154	28,574
Capital Expenditure	1,113	-	1,113

E. OUTLOOK

The benefit of a stable Government after 3 decades has rightly evoked a "feel good" factor across industries. One looks forward to a strong Government being able to negotiate favourable tariffs for the export of clothing from India, especially the conclusion of the long-overdue India/EU Free Trade Agreement (with zero-for-zero tariffs, in the field of textiles and clothing exports from India and import from the EU), at an early date

The Rupee is at a level where with some further depreciation expected, it would sharpen the competitiveness of the country and the industry.

The situation in the competing countries discussed earlier presents a huge opportunity, some of which has been captured in the final months of the last financial year. Further consolidation on this is possible, given the new Government's agenda to go all out to build India into a manufacturing powerhouse, which one hopes should unfold fairly quickly.

The demand situation within India should improve, given the fact that there is a "feel good" factor. When the benefits of an improving economy percolates and generates further investment, manufacturing, growth and employment for the demographic dividend, it should translate into even further growth in demand, which has been visible only in fits and starts for the last few years.

Over the medium term, the growth in demand should become more stable and consistent. The growth of organised retail is slated to continue, which holds great promise.

F. RISKS & CONCERNs

The weaknesses of the competitors (Bangladesh, Vietnam, Myanmar and China) may be overcome over time. Their competitive edge and ease of doing business, dealt with earlier in this discussion, is something which causes concern as this adds to the cost disabilities. The preferential rates of tariff that most of them enjoy in the large clothing importing countries are a continuing risk factor.

With the forecast of a weak monsoon, the concern of inflation spiralling looms large.

With volatility projected to continue, one has to build one's defences to deal with the situation as it presents itself. The traditional markets in the EU and the US are not yet robust, and gains witnessed in the final months of last year have been largely on account of competitor countries yielding market share.

The Chinese economy's faltering is causing ripples across the world, which eventually impacts demand in the US and the EU.

G. INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEMS AND THEIR ADEQUACY

The company's internal control systems, which are supplemented by an exhaustive process of internal audit (conducted by KPMG), which is regularly subjected to in-depth involvement of the management and monitored by the Audit Committee of the Board. Internal Audit covers the various functions, processes and other activities, including own retail operations of the company. Transactions are authorised, recorded and reported accurately and subjected to audit as well. The system of internal controls also ensures that all assets are safeguarded, insured and protected against loss.

Total	11,784	11,142

Operational Revenue & Profits:

We are pleased to inform you that during the financial year ended 31st March 2014, the operational revenue grew from ₹30,763 lakhs to ₹34,851 lakhs, an increase of 13.29%. The Profit Before Tax was ₹ 2,217 lakhs vs ₹ 1,598 lakhs, and the Profit After Tax was ₹1,493 lakhs vs ₹ 1,106 lakhs, all of which show a healthy increase. This is despite higher provision for Tax (₹724 lakhs vs ₹ 492 lakhs). The position on a consolidated basis shows similar improvement.

The interest cost rose marginally as a percentage of revenue from 0.53% to 0.66%, largely because the company's policy is to hedge all its Forex borrowings (that are not related to exports), the cost of which rose in tandem with the rates of interest prevalent in India. When compared to most listed companies it is significantly lower.

During the year:

There was no change in the paid-up capital of the company from Rs 19,38,99,980/-

The company is in compliance with the Code of Conduct for Prevention of Insider Trading formulated in terms of the provisions of SEBI (Prohibition of Insider Trading) Regulations, 1992, as amended from time to time.

The Board has recommended a dividend of 45%, i.e. ₹4.50 per share for the year 2013-14, subject to the approval of the shareholders.

At the close of the year, the company had 113 stores. 11 new stores were opened and 2 non-performing stores were closed during the year, a net increase of 9 stores. 2 existing stores were refurbished. (All stores are company-owned, not franchised). The company's strategy of investing in growth of its own retail business continues to be pursued with conservative aggressiveness.

ICRA (an associate of Moody's Investor Service) has reaffirmed the Company's rating of A1 + for its short term fund based/non fund based facilities, which have been increased to ₹8000 lakhs (₹7000 lakhs earlier). ICRA has also reaffirmed the company's rating of A1+ for Commercial Paper (₹2000 lakhs)

A1 is the highest credit quality rating assigned by ICRA to short term debt instruments, which carry the lowest credit risk in the short term. Within this category, certain instruments are assigned the rating of A1 + to reflect their relatively stronger credit quality.

I HUMAN RESOURCES DEVELOPMENT / INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS:

The company's belief that its people are the primary source of its sustainable competitive advantage drives its consistent emphasis in HRD. The performance driven culture is bearing fruit. Cordial employee relations, in keeping with tradition are being pursued vigorously with the variable component also including rewards for contribution to the profitability of the company. The sustained efforts of the employees and their immense contribution to the high level of performance and efficiency of the business during the year are also highly appreciated.

NOTES FORMING PART OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1) SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

a) BASIS OF ACCOUNTING

The Accounts are prepared on accrual basis under the historical cost convention and to comply in all material aspects with the applicable accounting principles in India, the accounting standards issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 1956 ("the 1956 Act") (which continue to be applicable in respect of Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the 2013 Act") in terms of general circular 15 / 2013 dated 13 September 2013 of the Ministry of Corporate Affairs).

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in India requires the Management to make estimates and assumptions considered in the reported amounts of assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) as of the date of the financial statements and the reported income and expenses during the reported period. Management believes that the estimates used in preparation of the financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Future results could differ from these estimates.

b) REVENUE RECOGNITION

Sales are recognised when goods are supplied to customers and are recorded net of sales tax / value added tax, trade Discounts, Rebate and Returns but includes excise duty. Dividend income on investments is accounted when the right to receive the dividend is established.

Revenue in respect of Insurance / other claims, interest etc. is recognised only when it is reasonably certain that the ultimate collection will be made.

c) EXPORT BENEFITS

Export benefits under various schemes of Government of India are accounted on accrual basis on the basis of exports made and the value of imports made / to be made there against.

d) FIXED ASSETS

Fixed Assets are recorded at Cost of acquisition. They are stated at historical costs including incidental expenses.

e) DEPRECIATION / AMORTISATION

i) On Tangible Assets:

Depreciation has been calculated on straight-line basis in accordance with the provisions of section 205(2)(b) of the Companies Act, 1956 at the rates and in the manner specified in schedule XIV of the said act.

Cost of Leasehold Land is amortised over the period of lease.

Cost of Leasehold improvements is amortised over the primary period of lease. However, in cases where the company as a lessee has the right of renewal of lease and it is intended to renew for further periods, then the cost of such leasehold improvements is amortised over such extended period.

ii) On Intangible Assets:

a) Goodwill

At the time of acquisition of the business, the difference between the cost of investments and the fair value of assets as at the date of acquisition is accounted for as goodwill. Goodwill is amortised over a period of 10 years.

Goodwill on amalgamation in the nature of merger is amortised over a period of 5 years.

b) Computer software is amortised on straight line basis over a period of 6 years.

f) IMPAIRMENT OF ASSETS

An asset is treated as impaired when the carrying cost of the asset exceeds its recoverable value. Recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's net selling price and its value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of the asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life. Net selling price is the amount obtainable from sale of the asset in an arm's length transaction between knowledgeable, willing parties, less the costs of disposal. An impairment loss is charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss in the year in which an asset is identified as impaired. The impairment loss recognised in prior accounting periods is reversed if there is a change in the estimate of the recoverable value.

g) INVESTMENTS

Investments are classified into non-current investments and current investments. Investments, which are intended to be held for more than one year, are classified as non-current investments and investments, which are intended to be held for less than one year, are classified as current investments. Non-current investments are accounted at cost and a provision for diminution is made to recognize a decline other than temporary in the value of long term investments. Current investments are valued at cost or fair value whichever is lower.

Investments include investments in shares of a company registered outside India. They are stated at cost by converting at the rate of exchange prevalent at the time of acquisition thereof.

Any profit or loss on sale of investments is determined on the basis of the average cost of acquisition.

h) TRANSACTIONS IN FOREIGN CURRENCY

Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of the transaction. Monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are restated at the exchange rate prevailing on the balance sheet date. Exchange differences arising on settlement of the transaction and on account of restatement of monetary items are dealt with in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Forward exchange contracts entered into to hedge the foreign currency risk and outstanding as on balance sheet date are translated at year end exchange rates. The premium or discount arising at the inception of such forward exchange contracts are amortised as income or expense over the life of the contract.

Gains / Losses on settlement of transactions arising on cancellation / renewal of forward exchange contracts are recognized as income or expense.

i) HEDGE ACCOUNTING

The Company uses foreign currency forward contracts to hedge its risks associated with foreign currency fluctuations relating to certain firm commitments and forecasted transactions. Further, non-derivative financial liabilities in the form of Pre-shipment Export Credit in Foreign Currency (PCFC) borrowings have also been designated as hedging instruments to hedge the highly probable forecast sales in foreign currency. The Company designates these hedging instruments as cash flow hedges applying the recognition and measurement principles set out in the Accounting Standard 30 "Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement" (AS-30).

The use of hedging instruments is governed by the Company's policies approved by the board of directors, which provide written principles on the use of such financial derivatives consistent with the Company's risk management strategy.

Hedging instruments are initially measured at fair value, and are remeasured at subsequent reporting dates.

Changes in the fair value of these derivatives that are designated and effective as hedges of future cash flows are recognised directly in shareholders' funds and the ineffective portion is recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Changes in the fair value of derivative financial instruments that do not qualify for hedge accounting are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as they arise.

If a hedged transaction is no longer expected to occur, the net cumulative gain or loss recognised in shareholders' funds is transferred to the Statement of Profit and Loss for the period.

j) INVENTORIES

- a) Raw materials are valued at cost or net realisable value whichever is lower. The cost includes purchase price as well as incidental expenses. The cost formulae used are First In First Out, Weighted average cost or Specific identification method, as applicable and found appropriate.
- b) Work-in-progress is valued at cost calculated on the basis of absorption costing or net realisable value whichever is lower.
- c) Finished goods are valued at cost or net realisable value whichever is lower. Cost is determined on the basis of absorption costing.
- d) Packing materials and accessories are valued at First in First out cost or net realisable value whichever is lower.
- e) Stores and spare parts are valued at First in First out cost or net realisable value whichever is lower.

k) EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

- a) The contribution to Provident Fund as required under the statute is made to the Government Provident Fund and is debited to Statement of Profit and Loss.
- b) Gratuity liability is a defined benefit obligation. The Company has taken Group gratuity- cum-life assurance (cash accumulation) Scheme offered by Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC). Annual contributions are made on the basis of intimation received from LIC. The company accounts for liability for future gratuity benefits based on actuarial valuation carried out as at the end of each financial year. Actuarial gains and losses are recognized in full in Statement of Profit and Loss for the period in which they occur.
- c) Benefits in the form of vesting and non-vesting compensated absences are accounted as per actuarial valuation carried out as at the year end.

l) EMPLOYEE SHARE BASED PAYMENTS

The Company has formulated Employee Stock Option Schemes (ESOS) in accordance with the SEBI (Employee Stock Option Scheme and Employee Stock Purchase Scheme) Guidelines, 1999. The Schemes provide for grant of options to employees of the Company to acquire equity shares of the Company that vest in a graded manner and that are to be exercised within a specified period. In accordance with the SEBI Guidelines; the excess, if any, of the closing market price on the day prior to the grant of the options under ESOS over the exercise price is amortised on a straight-line basis over the vesting period.

m) TAXES ON INCOME

Income Taxes are accounted for in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS 22) – Accounting for Taxes on Income, notified under the Companies (Accounting Standard) Rules, 2006. Income Tax comprises both current and deferred tax.

Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the revenue authorities, using applicable tax rates and laws.

The tax effect of the timing differences that result between taxable income and accounting income and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods are recorded as a deferred tax asset or deferred tax liability. They are measured using the substantively enacted tax rates and tax regulations as of the Balance Sheet date.

Deferred tax assets arising mainly on account of brought forward losses and unabsorbed depreciation under tax laws are recognised only if there is virtual certainty of its realization, supported by convincing evidence. Deferred tax assets on account of other timing differences are recognized only to the extent there is a reasonable certainty of its realisation.

n) BORROWING COST

Interest and other costs in connection with the borrowing of the funds to the extent related / attributed to the acquisition / construction of qualifying fixed assets are capitalised up to the date when such assets are ready for its intended use and all other borrowing costs are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

o) LEASES

Assets taken / given on lease by which all significant risks and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor are classified as operating leases. Lease payment / receipts under operating leases are recognized as expense / income on straight line basis over the lease term.

p) PROVISIONS AND CONTINGENCIES

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a legal and constructive obligation as a result of a past event, for which it is probable that cash outflow will be required and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Contingent liabilities are disclosed when the Company has a possible or present obligation where it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle it. Contingent assets are neither recognized nor disclosed.

q) EARNING PER SHARE

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

b) As far as possible, the consolidated financial statements are prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances and appropriate adjustments are made to the financial statements of the subsidiaries when they are used in preparing the consolidated financial statements that are presented in the same manner as the Company’s separate financial statements.

c) The difference between the cost of investment in the subsidiaries over the net assets at the time of acquisition of shares in the subsidiaries is recognized in the financial statements as Goodwill or Capital Reserve as the case may be.

(B) SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) BASIS OF ACCOUNTING

The Accounts are prepared on the accrual basis under the historical cost convention and to comply in all material aspects with the applicable accounting principles in India, the accounting standards issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 1956 (“the 1956 Act”) (which continue to be applicable in respect of Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 (“the 2013 Act”) in terms of general circular 15 / 2013 dated 13 September 2013 of the Ministry of Corporate Affairs).

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in India requires the Management to make estimates and assumptions considered in the reported amounts of assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) as of the date of the financial statements and the reported income and expenses during the reported period. Management believes that the estimates used in preparation of the financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Future results could differ from these estimates.

b) REVENUE RECOGNITION

Sales are recognised when goods are supplied to customers and are recorded net of sales tax / value added tax, trade Discounts, Rebate and Returns but includes excise duty. Dividend income on investments is accounted when the right to receive the dividend is established.

Revenue in respect of Insurance / other claims, interest etc. is recognised only when it is reasonably certain that the ultimate collection will be made.

c) EXPORT BENEFITS

Export benefits under various schemes of Government of India are accounted on accrual basis on the basis of exports made and the value of imports made / to be made there against.

d) FIXED ASSETS

Fixed Assets are recorded at Cost of acquisition. They are stated at historical costs including incidental expenses.

e) DEPRECIATION / AMORTISATION

i) On Tangible Assets:

Depreciation has been calculated on straight-line basis in accordance with the provisions of section 205(2)(b) of the Companies Act, 1956 at the rates that are equal to or higher than those prescribed under Schedule XIV to the Companies Act, 1956 based on the management's estimate of useful lives of the assets. The estimated useful lives that are different from those prescribed under schedule XIV in respect of one of the subsidiaries are as follows: -

Factory Building	10 Years
Plant and Machinery	8 Years
Furniture and Office	10 Years
Equipment
Vehicles	5 Years

Cost of Leasehold Land is amortised over the period of lease.

Cost of Leasehold improvements is amortised over the primary period of lease. However, in cases where the Group as a lessee has the right of renewal and it is intended to renew for further periods, then the cost of such leasehold improvements is amortised over such extended period, not exceeding 10 years.

ii) On Intangible Assets:

a) Goodwill

At the time of acquisition of the business, the difference between the cost of investments and the fair value of assets as at the date of acquisition is accounted for as goodwill. Goodwill is amortised over a period of 10 years.

Goodwill on amalgamation in the nature of merger is amortised over a period of 5 years.

b) Computer software is amortised on straight-line basis over a period of 6 years.

f) IMPAIRMENT OF ASSETS

An asset is treated as impaired when the carrying cost of the asset exceeds its recoverable value. Recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's net selling price and its value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of the asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life. Net selling price is the amount obtainable from sale of the asset in an arm's length transaction between knowledgeable, willing parties, less the costs of disposal. An impairment loss is charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss in the year in which an asset is identified as impaired. The impairment loss recognised in prior accounting periods is reversed if there is a change in the estimate of the recoverable value.

g) INVESTMENTS

Investments are classified into non-current investments and current investments. Investments, which are intended to be held for more than one year are classified as non-current investments and investments which are intended to be held for less than one year, are classified as current investments. Non-current investments are accounted at cost and a provision for diminution is made to recognize a decline other than temporary in the value of a non-current investment. Current investments are valued at cost or fair value whichever is lower.

Accounting policy of investment property-

Investment Property held for the purpose of generating rental income or capital appreciation or both, are classified as investment property and are stated at cost. Investment properties are initially measured at cost and transaction costs less any accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. Any expenditure that results in maintenance of property to acceptable standard or specification is treated as repairs and maintenance expenses and is expensed in the year in which it is incurred.

Investment properties are capitalised and depreciated on a straight line basis over the period of 61 years. Impairment of investment property is determined in accordance with the policy stated for Impairment of Assets.

h) TRANSACTIONS IN FOREIGN CURRENCY

i) Foreign Subsidiaries (Non integral operation)

In case of foreign subsidiaries Income and Expenses are converted at the average rate prevailing during the year. All assets and liabilities are converted at rates prevailing at the end of the year. All resulting exchange differences are accumulated in a foreign currency translation reserve until the disposal of the net investment in the subsidiaries.

ii) Other Transactions

Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the exchange rate prevailing on the date of the transaction. Monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are restated at the exchange rate prevailing on the balance sheet date. Exchange differences arising on settlement of the transaction and on account of restatement of monetary items are dealt with in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Forward exchange contracts entered into to hedge the foreign currency risk and outstanding as on balance sheet date are translated at year end exchange rates. The premium or discount arising at the inception of such forward exchange contracts are amortised as income or expense over the life of the contract.

Gains / Losses on settlement of transactions arising on cancellation / renewal of forward exchange contracts are recognized as income or expense.

i) HEDGE ACCOUNTING

The Group uses foreign currency forward contracts to hedge its risks associated with foreign currency fluctuations relating to certain firm commitments and forecasted transactions. Further non-derivative financial liabilities in the form of Pre-shipment Export Credit in Foreign Currency (PCFC) borrowings have also been designated as hedging instruments to hedge the highly probable forecast sales in foreign currency. The group designates these hedging instruments as cash flow hedges applying the recognition and measurement principles set out in the Accounting Standard 30 "Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement" (AS-30).

The use of hedging instruments is governed by the Group's policies approved by the board of directors, which provides written principles on the use of such financial derivatives consistent with the Group's risk management strategy.

Hedging instruments are initially measured at fair value, and are remeasured at subsequent reporting dates.

Changes in the fair value of these derivatives that are designated and effective as hedges of future cash flows are recognised directly in shareholders' funds and the ineffective portion is recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Changes in the fair value of derivative financial instruments that do not qualify for hedge accounting are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as they arise.

If a hedged transaction is no longer expected to occur, the net cumulative gain or loss recognised in shareholders' funds is transferred to the Statement of Profit and Loss for the period.

- c) Benefits in the form of vesting and non-vesting compensated absences are accounted as per actuarial valuation carried out as at the year end.

l) EMPLOYEE SHARE BASED PAYMENTS

The Company has formulated Employee Stock Option Schemes (ESOS) in accordance with the SEBI (Employee Stock Option Scheme and Employee Stock Purchase Scheme) Guidelines, 1999. The Schemes provide for grant of options to employees of the Company to acquire equity shares of the Company that vest in a graded manner and that are to be exercised within a specified period. In accordance with the SEBI Guidelines; the excess, if any, of the closing market price on the day prior to the grant of the options under ESOS over the exercise price is amortised on a straight-line basis over the vesting period.

m) TAXES ON INCOME

Income Taxes are accounted for in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS 22) – Accounting for Taxes on Income, notified under the Companies (Accounting Standard) Rules, 2006. Income Tax comprises both current and deferred tax.

Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the revenue authorities, using applicable tax rates and laws.

The tax effect of the timing differences that result between taxable income and accounting income and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods are recorded as a deferred tax asset or deferred tax liability. They are measured using the substantively enacted tax rates and tax regulations as of the Balance Sheet date.

Deferred tax assets arising on account of brought forward losses and unabsorbed depreciation under tax laws are recognised only if there is virtual certainty of its realisation, supported by convincing evidence. Deferred tax assets on account of other timing differences are recognized only to the extent there is a reasonable certainty of its realisation.

result of a past event, for which it is probable that cash outflow will be required and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Contingent liabilities are disclosed when the Group has a possible or present obligation where it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle it. Contingent assets are neither recognized nor disclosed.

q) EARNING PER SHARE

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period.
