CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

We trust all of you and your families are safe and well.

We have lost our Respected Beloved Founder Chairman in November 2019. He was often described as a towering personality, truly a giant, a doyen and a founding father of the clothing industry in India, with several notable achievements to his credit. His spirit, principles and teachings will always continue to guide the Company he started.

A few months earlier, we lost Mr. M. L. Apte, one of the earliest Independent Directors of the Company, shortly after he stepped down from the Board due to ill health.

The year was a difficult one, owing to low consumer demand, GDP growth of 4.2%, no appreciable increase in investment, growing unemployment, and finally the lockdown in the most crucial run up to the year end, which impaired the top line as well as the bottom line. The lockdown hit the year end fervour, in both the International business, as well as the Branded business.

Other factors like intense competition in the markets, disrupted by the economic slowdown, the US China trade war (which could have been, and continues to be, an opportunity to capture some of the swing of business out of China), the volatility in the Forex markets and strengthening Rupee, easing imports of clothing into India especially from Bangladesh, all added to the woes of the clothing industry, which was already reeling from the closure of several large brick & mortar retailers globally, due to the onslaught of online - Covid 19 only severely aggravated this further, although online business continued internationally during the lockdown, online business in India was impacted because, during the lockdown online business in India came to a standstill as well. The equity markets are totally out of sync with ground realities.

One must mention here that the China-US cold war-in trade, technology and finance- comes with its own rich prospects besides the swing away from China. Indian born executives like Satya Nadella (Microsoft), Sundar Pichai (Alphabet), Arvind Krishna (IBM) and Indira Nooyi (former of PepsiCo) are in a position to drive investments/jobs to India, given the right conditions here.

In the International business, the competition for a shrunken market is mostly from competing low wage countries with favourable trade agreements, and exacerbated our country's weaknesses, such as export of our taxes and low productivity in India. Besides, issues of dependability, poor infrastructure and expensive logistics, higher turnaround time for orders (90 days from India v/s 30 days from Turkey), longer transit time because of trans shipments of consignments for a significant part of India's export due to inadequate availability of direct vessels/ mother vessels add to our weakness.

Export of clothing from the country declined by 4% (from USD 16.19 B in 2018-19 to USD 15.49 B in 2019-20).

On the Branded business front, the situation of fall in demand even before Covid 19, led to cut throat discounting, promotions & free give aways throughout the year. The MBO channel continues to weaken despite being pampered with every possible inducement by the competition. One bright spot continued to be our own webstore.

The impact of Covid on both businesses has been dramatic. Very low revenues ensued in both businesses during the lock down period and phased unlockings spread over several months for both production facilities and retail stores. There were several large bankruptcies in the international market, where demand crumpled early, resulting in carrying forward of inventories, deferring of shipments and payments for suppliers to those markets - all this, coming together, with the lurking fear of the global resurgence of the virus as winter approaches, continues to keep business subdued.

The Company has taken several dramatic steps to reduce costs, curtail capex and conserve cash. We have moved large components of fixed expenses to variable (revenue share instead of fixed rental in case of stores) created an asset light model which has been discussed in this report. Thankfully, the Company has met all its commitments to its team in terms of their remuneration on time without any reduction; we have also met all our statutory obligations well in time. The pivot for the result for the year ahead will be the revival of demand, both internationally as well as in India.

The Government is formulating a policy of WTO compliant refund of taxes and duties (RODTEP), which when implemented, and executed efficiently and on time, will sharpen India's competitiveness. The proposed merging of 44 labour codes into 4 codes will be a giant step towards workers across the board getting formal contracts. The insolvency reform has lost its sting, after the business community lobbied hard against losing prized assets, which the Government is trying to bring back on track.

During the year, the Company has incurred a Capex of ₹ 392.48 Lakhs, primarily in production equipment, and information systems, to sharpen our competitiveness, besides new stores.

During the year, 12 new Stores were opened (16 unviable stores were closed – a net decrease of 4 stores) with 116 stores at the end of the year.

The decline in turnover, of both International and Branded businesses, coupled with gestation on new stores and extended gestation on some stores opened in the recent past, reduction of duty drawback/ ROSL (for partial reimbursement of taxes/duties paid), as well as high depreciation and mark to market under IND AS of some large ticket items, has resulted in the Company's operational performance being hit.

The Company has been advised by ICRA (an associate of Moody's Investor Service) that the rating process shall be done only after the Financial accounts for the Financial year 2019-20 are finalized and approved.

During the year, Mr. Vaman Apte was appointed as an Additional Director of the Company with an aim to refresh our Board with younger Independent Directors possessing skills and perspectives to help us steer our path in the current environment. The appointment of Mr. Vaman Apte is proposed to be regularized at the 36th AGM of the Company. Ms. Elizabeth Jane Hulse, Independent Director, having completed her first term of 5 years has been appointed as an Additional Director and it is proposed to regularize her appointment and also appoint her as an Independent Director of the Company for a second term of 5 years i.e. upto 11th August, 2025.

The Board of Directors of your Company have not recommended any dividend for the Financial Year 2019-20.

I would like to conclude with a vote of thanks to all our stakeholders. Our shareholders for the confidence reposed in the management, our customers, Government departments, bankers, solicitors, distributors, suppliers and other business associates for their wholehearted support, and for the contribution made by them towards the development of the Company.

My grateful thanks to our eminent Independent Directors for their valuable guidance and advice in steering the Company during these turbulent times and especially for the high standard of Corporate Governance that has been sustained by the Company as a direct result of their inputs, as well as for their continuously guiding the Company towards best practices across industries.

I would also like to place on record my deepest appreciation and thanks for the significant contribution made by the employees at all levels. Facing the challenging times, was made possible by their hard work, strong work ethic, solidarity, co-operation and unstinted support. Covid induced WFH has truly put their skills and dependability to test.

We continue to be committed to our quality, transparency, environment friendly factories, sustainable production and community driven values, while delivering better product per rupee to the consumer, and remain as committed as ever to the Company's goals - our transparency, values and uncompromising principles/ ethics are hopefully cherished by all our constituents.

As always, I look forward to your continued support in our future endeavors, to take the Company to greater glory.

OPERATIONAL REVENUE - STANDALONE

OPERATIONAL REVENUE – CONSOLIDATED

The slowdown in the Indian economy has been extended due to declining growth in private consumption, tepid increase in investment, drop in savings and continuing muted exports. The GDP for the financial year 2019-20 was 4.2%, which has been the lowest in the past eleven years. The end of FY 20 was further challenging due to the global spread of the Covid 19 pandemic, resulting in economic shutdowns creating unprecedented challenges for the economy. The pandemic led tightening of liquidity, risk averseness build up and safety being the greatest priority for consumers resulting in dramatic fall in consumption demand, is likely to result in India facing its first growth recession since 1979-80.

India went into a corona virus-related lockdown only at the end of March – later than many other Asian and European nations – so the effects of the stay-at-home order only became fully visible in the quarter ending in June (GDP being down by 23.9%) as the country's efforts to contain the corona virus wreaked havoc on the economy.

India's economic decline was one of the worst among major economies, with the U.S. economy for example contracting 9.5 percent in the June quarter. With the COVID-19 restrictions being loosened, but with the virus continuing to rage in the country and elsewhere, the second quarter's results across industries, though expected to improve, will continue to remain uninspiring, with some sectors continuing to be in distress. The Government's attempt to create liquidity to restore demand in India is a welcome move.

The operating results of the Company have been affected, in a year that presented several challenges in each of the different segments and especially in the MBO segment of the Company's business. The consumer sentiment was lacklustre, across channels, with possibly the exception of the online stores. The last 2 weeks of the financial year are always charged with frenetic sales activity, so the loss in turnover was more than pro rata for the lockdown during March 20. The Company apart from initiating several efforts to expedite the growth of its online business, has also, besides closing down (16) unviable stores, started to move from the fixed rental model to the revenue share model in respect of most of its retail stores, and converting fixed expenses to variable expenses wherever possible, besides moving to an asset light model to the extent possible. This is expected to aid the Company in reducing a large part of its fixed expenses and bring down its losses substantially.

In line with declining real GDP growth, India's total exports are also stagnating for the previous five years. Further, due to the ongoing pandemic, clothing manufacturers are likely to witness a 25 per cent plus decline in revenue in the ongoing financial year due to the prolonged lockdown, a sharp fall in both domestic and export demand and lower discretionary spending, according to a report by Crisil Ratings.

On the global front, contrary to market expectations, escalation in trade war between US and China have dampened risk sentiment and outlook for global growth. The recent slowdown in global demand has also increased competition further in the markets impacted by the Pandemic. The projected post pandemic consumption of clothing in 2020 in EU is projected at 59% of 2019 and in US at 63% of 2019, total USD 308B, of which imports would be USD 122B. The countries with favourable treaties (zero/no duties by importing countries) will be at a greater advantage.

On the domestic front, RBI's forex reserves have been increasing sharply. During the current year, India's trade deficit has been decreasing, despite a fall in exports, because of a greater fall in imports. With the expected shrinking of the current account deficit and the balance of payments surplus expected to continue through the current fiscal, the rupee is expected to strengthen in spite of RBI aggressive intervention.

Clothing imports into India continued the upward trend with a CAGR of 8% over the last thirteen years. This alarming increase was mainly due to India's Free Trade Agreements and zero duty access to highly competitive clothing exporters like Bangladesh, China, & Bangladesh continue to remain the biggest suppliers of textiles and clothing products to India.

The Inverted structure of GST, which has resulted in huge blockage of funds ,especially for distressed MSME clothing retailers, needs to be addressed forthwith by putting refunds on fast track, without any further loss of time. Also the unutilised tax credits are deadweight and reduce India's competitiveness.

The cumulative Index of Industrial Production (IIP) for clothing ended the year on a positive note. However, India's clothing exports are continuously declining since 2017, mainly due to stiff competition, economic slowdown, reduction in reimbursement for duties paid (which only partially compensate for the taxes incurred), delays in disbursement creates constraints in working capital because of large amounts receivable towards these, besides cut-throat competition particularly from FTA, zero duty / low duty and low wage countries. WTO compliant support is needed urgently, to sharpen India's export competitiveness.

The cost of not progressing with the EU trade deal - and, for that matter, of allowing the Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership (RCEP) to move forward without India is likely to isolate India at this crucial juncture of it's development.

Going forward, both the Indian clothing industry and Government need to work in tandem towards achieving the agility that our competitor countries display.

The Company continues to invest in enhancing it's competitiveness, as well as in Information Technology (I.T.), to better service the needs of it's customers, besides consistently scouting for new viable locations for it's store additions, which continues to be a focus area.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

A. OVERVIEW:

India, despite having all types of fibres in abundance, presence of the entire textile value chain and the comfort of a large domestic market, exports of Textiles & Clothing (T&C) have either stagnated or declined, while imports have grown steeply in the last five years. Global export has also stagnated at circa USD 19 Trillion since 2014, but there was a shift of 4.5% from oil export to industrial export (none of which India could capture). A similar shift seems likely over the next 5 years from commodity exports to industrial exports. We have to sharpen our competitiveness to avail of this opportunity, for which reforms to address our weaknesses will be crucial.

The Indian Textile Industry is at present facing numerous challenges which are preventing the harvesting of growth potential of the industry. Higher fibre prices, higher cost of funds, power, unrefunded embedded duties, liquidity crunch due to low exports and slowdown in domestic markets, large funds blockage due to delay / non receipt of TUF subsidies, taxes, GST/ IGST severely erode our competitiveness, compounded by high tariff rates due to unfavourable trade treaties with the major markets. GST has reduced the trade barriers on imports substantially by subsuming Countervailing Duty (CVD) and Special Additional Duty of Customs (SAD). There continues to be severe volatility in the forex markets, with the USD index swinging sharply, besides other factors like the pandemic, possible resurgence of which could keep the markets turbulent. All these have suppressed the overall growth of the T&C Industry., especially its exports due to India being on an average 10-20% more expensive against competing countries. India's T&C exports have declined from US$ 38.6 billion in 2014 to US$ 37.1 billion in 2018 while imports have increased from US$ 5.8 billion to US$ 7.3 billion (22.8% in the last 5 years) during the same period.

The share of relevant countries' exports in import of clothing to EU and US was as follows:

Name of Countries	EU		US
	2017 (in %)	2019 (in %)	2017 (in %)	2019 (in %)
China	17	15	34	30
Bangladesh	9.6	10.1	6	7
Turkey	6	5.8	-	-
Poland	3	3.6	-	-
India	3.1	2.9	5	5
Vietnam	2	2.1	14	16

India should have been a Textile Superpower by now but China, Bangladesh and Vietnam have all surpassed us, making us a mute spectator with them eating into our rightful share. India which maintained the 2nd Position in the world textile and clothing till 2017, has slipped to 3rd position in 2018 due to stagnant export performance.

India faces it's first growth recession since 1979-80. India's T&C industry has witnessed many ups-downs during the past five years. Over the past five fiscals, revenue growth of clothing manufacturers was supported by domestic demand (although weaker since 2016-17) even as exports were muted. This fiscal, with domestic demand also falling, more significantly post the pandemic, revenues are expected to be materially impacted and operating margins to contract despite softer cotton prices, and wide ranging cost-reduction initiatives. Demand for man-made textiles have been growing worldwide as a substitute for cotton amid changes in global fashion trends. With implied limitations on growing cotton, the future of textile & clothing sector, significance of growth of Man Made Fibre has increased.

India urgently needs reforms in land, labour, infrastructure and logistics to become globally competitive.

Also, the pandemic has had a globally adverse impact on clothing retailing in brick and mortar stores, as the online stores remain the more convenient and safe option to shop for clothing, despite consumers primarily focusing on grocery, medicines and staple purchases online. Further, since the occupation cost of retail real estate continues to be prohibitively expensive, the international trend of shake out of malls has come to India, which has been aggravated further by the pandemic. Also, clothing purchases may be deferred due to lack of urgency to replenish, work from home, uncertainty due to economic slowdown and limited social and official activity. Hopefully, the expected crisis in the economy has played out fully with the pandemic.

The focus, therefore, has to be on leveraging Artificial Intelligence using valuable data in different aspects of business including sourcing, product development, investment in quality; adapting to pandemic will need organizational transformation, regardless of hierarchy or departmental affiliation and remote working readiness (WFH) will have to be made a mandatory requirement when recruiting.

Also, sustainability needs to be made a tool for value creation, causing little or no damage to the environment/ social impact/increased consumerism and sensitivity to the ability of future generations to meet their own needs - water footprint/carbon emissions/workers' welfare.

B. Industry Structure and Development

India's Textile & Clothing (T&C) industry is one of it's oldest industries and has a formidable presence in the national economy. It contributed to about 11.4% towards India's total exports and had a share of about 27% in India's foreign exchange inflow during 2018-19. With over 10 crore people involved, besides providing livelihood to 60 lakh cotton farmers, it is the 2nd largest employer after agriculture. Clothing has always been the largest exported category from India and the European Union continues to remain its biggest market.

On the other hand, India's imports of T&C products have grown at a CAGR of 8% over the last thirteen years with fabric having the largest share of 33%. China and Bangladesh continue to remain significant suppliers of T&C products to India.

Despite the T&C industry being, one of India's largest Industrial employers it is presently going through a deep crisis having several issues dealt with above, and also with banks having classified Textiles as a Red and Stressed Sector.

The Demand situation, pre and post pandemic was weak, and has now assumed crisis proportions post lockdown. The Industry stands at a crucial juncture, experiencing its worst phase and certainly needs maximum support from the government to overcome the unprecedented challenges. Government creating liquidity to restore demand in India is being unanimously and vehemently espoused by economists from India as well as globally. In the current budget, Government of India has set an ambitious vision of US$ 350 bn for T&C industry by 2024-25. To achieve this, the sector needs substantial policy support from the Government, which can be achieved only with the support and co-operation of all the stakeholders in the textile value chain. India's real GDP for the year 2019-20 was 4.2% (lowest in 11 years) as compared to 6.1% in the year 2018-19. The Cumulative index of Industrial Production was 1% higher in the year 2019 - 20 as compared to the year 2018-19. India's total exports are stagnating for previous 5 years including clothing exports (FY 2020 - 15.51 B v/s FY 2019 - 16.16 B, i.e. minus 4% even before the pandemic (HY 20 was 7.629 v/s 8.433 i.e. minus 10%) as compared to China 145B, Bangladesh 36B and Vietnam 33B last year). The lockdown skewed the picture, but we would have struggled to stay flat even without the pandemic.

For the development of the textile and clothing Industry, Government has introduced many measures like TUFs, SITP and numerous schemes including skill development schemes like SAMARTH. The challenge is in the execution of these, as low growth, poor employment, weak financial trajectory with the financial sector continuing to shower bad news; vulnerability to external capital flows (despite the single exception of RIL's outstanding raising of capital) and oil prices continues.

Government should also negotiate a Reciprocal Duty Structure with Bangladesh as India allows zero duty market access to Bangladesh, while Bangladesh imposes high duty rates on T&C exports from India.

C. Opportunities and Threats

We thank the Government of India for giving RoSCTL Scheme for Apparel and Made-ups Sectors and helpus in reducing our taxes getting exported. However what is needed is a policy to eliminate fully the export of taxes, a WTO compliant support to replace existing non WTO compliant measures to ensure that our exports become more competitive

Growing imports, especially of clothing from Bangladesh, and MMF yarns from Indonesia and Vietnam, are a big concern. Further our fabric sector is not performing to potential, as it is not internationally competitive. Our current GST does not include various input taxes like agriculture inputs, petroleum, electricity etc., and thus along with our fabric exports, we export large component of embedded taxes. Even though we have huge potential to emerge as a sourcing destination for fabric, due to our uncompetitive prices, our fabric exports are not picking up. For the overall growth of the textile value chain, the growth of Fabric Sector is very critical. Even in large T&C export countries like China, fabric accounts for 20% of their exports.

Indian clothing industry manufactures over 100 different types of clothing for men, women and children. Exports account for about 20% of the total production while 80% of clothing manufactured is consumed domestically. In India for every ₹ 1 lakh invested, the clothing industry creates about 7 jobs. However, India's clothing sector is highly fragmented and decentralized. Manufacturing units can be viable at different scales, particularly because of relatively low cost of plant and machinery. The units range from small to medium, due to which nearly 90% of the manufacturing units fall under the Small and Medium Enterprises (SME) category. As per Office of Textile Commissioner, clothing sector could provide employment to about 156 million people by 2025.

Competing countries such as Vietnam, Indonesia, Pakistan and Cambodia enjoy duty free access to China in different segments of cotton textiles, while Indian products bear 3.5% to 14% duty. We must negotiate with China to give duty free access to Indian cotton textiles as it has been giving to Vietnam, Pakistan, Indonesia and Cambodia under APTA. The swing out of China for clothing import by US companies needs to be captured by the Indian clothing industry as has been done by Vietnam and Bangladesh (and by the leather and footwear industry in India).

There is no customs duty on import of Clothing from Bangladesh. Rapidly rising imports from Bangladesh would result in potential loss of jobs and crores of investment in the clothing sector.

Also, lack of a FTA vis-à-vis our competitors such as Vietnam, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, Cambodia, Ethiopia and Myanmar into several importing countries lead to loss of market share for India. Bangladesh and Vietnam are gaining in both EU and US, while Turkey and Poland are gaining in EU, whereas India's market share is lacklustre in both markets. Retaining market share is critical for India, in the face of stiff competition from Bangladesh and Vietnam and possibly China, (if they lower prices by subsidizing export to retain market share, in addition to their export from Bangladesh / Vietnam /Cambodia /Laos /Ethiopia where they have aggressively set up facilities to counter rising wages in China and capture benefit of favourable treaties with EU/US).

The era of free trade/ globalization has ended, with greater protectionism all over the world. Global trade developments like US – China Trade war have adversely impacted the global demand of textile products, and the ongoing RCEP negotiations are posing an imminent threat especially to our T&C industry.

The Covid -19 pandemic and the resulting economic shutdowns have created unprecedented challenges for the clothing industry, including declining consumer demand/ spending and disrupted supply chains, which will accelerate the shift to greener more sustainable supply chains and shape the future of the clothing industry.

The world is currently witnessing a retail apocalypse, with the online sector (referred to as “Clicks”) expected to further gain momentum with many retail store closures due to the onslaught of the pandemic.

Although the world is currently tirelessly fighting to control the spread of the pandemic, the same has not disappeared, as there will be pockets of it around the world, thereby leaving the risk of it being potentially returning on a wider scale in the near future, the projected end being circa end of 2021.

There is a greater need to tweak the FTA rules under SAFTA/SAARC and enforce Rules of Origin and Yarn/Fabric Forward Rule to safeguard the interest of Indian Textile Industry.. At present Bangladesh is importing fabric from China and routing it to India in the form of clothing, which has zero import duty after implementation of GST.

The largest manufacturing units in China have a workforce of 30k, those in Bangladesh 10k while in India comparative numbers rarely exceed 1,000 in the largest units. Beyond 1,000 workers, India's employers prefer to split their workforce into multiple units, to avoid being compelled to continue to employ the workforce by an unreasonable denial or delay in permission to close the unit. The need for government permission to downsize also impacts Indian manufacturers' ability to respond to seasonal fluctuations in demand. The Contract Act is vague and leads to its widespread abuse. Contract workers are paid only 71% of regular workers and don't have regular protection which leads to most instances of industrial disputes.

Other prickly points are overtime wages of 200% of normal which is above OECD and ILO accepted level of 125%. The proposed codification of 29 Central enactments into four labour codes is expected to bring about a balance between the interests of the workmen and the industry. Labour reforms are not the only hindrance to developing India's manufacturing base. Holistic supply side reforms (land, electricity, infrastructure, etc.) are important too, but the reforms need to be significant enough to make a difference.

The Inverted structure of GST, which has resulted in huge blockage of funds (especially for MSME retailers of clothing, who are in despair) needs to be addressed forthwith by putting refunds to them on fast track, without any further loss of time. Also the unutilised tax credits are deadweight and reduce India's competitiveness.

Our industry is a consumer facing industry, and therefore we experience shifts in the economy (which can occur with a shattering suddenness) before most industries. Globalization's most significant export is financial stress, which is seemingly shipped from country to country within the global system - we are no longer de-linked with that. Our industry continues to evolve and innovate and it continues to cope, and in some ways thrive despite all the uncertainties in the world today.

Adversity truly breeds innovation!

D. Segment wise/Product wise Performance

Our Segments are reviewed in terms of the relevant Accounting Standards, with focus on the differential risks and returns of these segments, bearing in mind the organization structure.

The Geographical Segment is identified and given below:

On a Consolidated Basis

(Unit: ₹ Million)

Particulars	India	Rest of the World	Total
Segment Revenue (Net)	9,311.25	9,771.17	19,082.42
Carrying Cost of Segment Non Current Asset	20,851.00	315.05	21,166.05

E. OUTLOOK

The Clothing industry is the second largest (gender sensitive) employment generator of the Indian economy which is largely dominated by SMEs, and employs mostly people from the poorer sections of society, especially illiterate women. The growth of the clothing industry is crucial for inclusive growth of the nation and especially of our growing female workforce. Government encouragement through policy reforms which can make it competitive and productive are vital. These policy reforms will also enable India to grab the opportunities created by the US-China trade war, and to increase our clothing exports and generate more employment in the country.

India already being the largest textile manufacturing country after China, holds tremendous potential to convert itself into a textile manufacturing hub for the entire world. Increasing consumerism, changing demographics, increasing penetration of organized retail, and disposable income on the rise make the future of Indian textile industry look promising. However, industry at present is facing several issues like unfriendly tax structure, rising interest rates, increasing labor costs and lack of skilled manpower which are proving detrimental to the industry's growth. On the export front, India's clothing sector is facing high trade barriers compared to other competing countries like Bangladesh, Vietnam, Sri Lanka, Cambodia, Ethiopia and Pakistan (to name a few) in key markets such as the US and EU.

The projected post pandemic consumption of clothing in 2020 in EU is estimated at 59% of 2019 and in US at 63% of 2019, total USD 308B, of which imports would be USD 122B.

Recently, China's clothing industry has shifted its focus from export to their domestic market, which has provided the opportunity for India to regain its rightful share from the void created. For that, Indian Clothing industry needs to build economies of scale in production. Also, financial reforms in terms of suitable moratorium of loans to emerge from the current crisis, regulation of interest rates to bring them in line with International rates, services such as insurance of receivables and factoring need to be encouraged.

More than half of India's population of 1.3 billion is below the age of 25 compared to 40, 46 and 47 years for USA, Europe and Japan respectively. A World Bank study predicts that for the next two decades in India, every year more than 12 million youth between 15 and 29 years of age are expected to enter the job market. The country has more than 62% of its population in the working age group (15-59 years) which can be a huge demographic advantage, if used to its full potential to achieve maximum possible production and consequently demand. However, if not utilized properly, the large number of unemployed youth can become a demographic time bomb. 500 million people in mid demographic population is what makes the Indian domestic market something global marketeers are drooling at, besides the rapid rate of our urbanization.

The low education and low skill intensity of the country present the humungous challenge of developing a skilled workforce. Lack of access to job creation for the growing population is largely attributable to the persistent skill gaps and mismatches existing in the labour market. The Textile Skill Council (TSC), one of the 40 sector skills councils set up for skilling initiatives under the National Skill Development Council, aims to develop a robust ecosystem for skilling in spinning, weaving, processing and handloom sectors based on the skill requirements of the industry so as to create a deployable talent pool of workforce for the industry.

F. Risks and Concerns

Clothing manufacturers are likely to witness a 25 per cent plus decline in revenue in the ongoing financial year due to the prolonged lockdown, a sharp fall in both domestic and export demand because of the pandemic and lower discretionary spending, according to a report by Crisil Ratings. For exporters, the fall will be more because of tepid discretionary spending in the US and European Union, which account for 60 per cent of India's clothing exports. India (4.29%) ranked sixth in exports of Clothing Globally in 2019 behind China (28.81%), Bangladesh (9.44%), Vietnam (7.01%), Germany (5.43%) & Italy (5.33%). From Jan - May '20 fall in export to the US has been China -49% , India -27%, Vietnam -9%, Bangladesh -12%, Indonesia -15% and Cambodia +1%.

The working capital cycle of Clothing manufacturers has elongated because of higher inventory and stretched receivables due to the Pandemic related depressed demand, which is expected to impair their credit profiles, as also those of large global brick and mortar retailers adding to the woes of exporters, according to a Crisil report. The last fiscal ended with 20-25 per cent higher inventory as the pandemic took hold and lockdowns began in late March.

Indian clothing Sector is also going through a difficult phase and needs immediate attention of the government. After implementation of GST in July 2017 the import of clothing from Bangladesh is increasing sharply and consistently. India's import of clothing from Bangladesh has increased unprecedentedly by 82%, reaching US$ 365 mn. during 2018-19, amounting to 33% of India's total clothing imports.

Most of our competitive disadvantage, stems from tariff or non-tariff barriers in destination countries and lack of domestic reforms. Indian clothing industry's weaknesses of high energy and capital costs, low productivity (33% lower than China's and 26% lower than Vietnam's - a cost disadvantage of 5%), higher wages per month than e.g. Bangladesh, highly fragmented production facilities - (a legacy of Government policy of reservation for SSI) fragmented supply chain with production of various components scattered across the Country requiring a lot of movement of materials within the country before clothing is exported, which creates incremental logistics costs, poor infrastructure including higher cost of road transport and more time taken for port and customs clearances, higher shipping costs and longer transit time due trans shipments, (all of which add up to 16% of the unit price) lack of dependability/high turnaround time and lack of capability to service large orders, inadequate R&D, high cycle time (90 days v/s 30 days in Turkey), accessing new markets including saturating existing markets by virtue of favourable trade/ tariff agreements (disadvantage of 10-12% in the EU 2.5-5% in the US) ,diversification of fabric/product categories, fibres and very few large composite fabric units with world class technology and requisite skills.

Global value chains rate quality, lead time and compliance to social standards higher than price (in buyers' perception India is rated lowest in 2 of these criteria and second lowest in the third, from amongst China /Vietnam /Indonesia / Cambodia and Bangladesh, in that order). FDI in the clothing industry in India is lowest @ 5% (our competitors have foreign ownership ranging from 20-97%), limiting the consequent benefits of transfer of technology, productivity improvements and preferential buying through connections with Global Value Chains.

India's strategy should be to 1) consolidate it's position within it's core cotton categories, it's ability to deliver small minimum quantities per article, while building manufacturing excellence and improved cost competitiveness 2) Diversification into MMF aggressively, also into winter wear, intimate wear, outerwear, functional wear and performance wear and 3) Finalize FTA with EU, propose more favourable new trade deal with the US, and reconsider participation in the RCEP with adequate safeguards by leveraging our strengthened bargaining power.

Government also needs to simplify ATUFS guidelines and clear all the pending TUF subsidies in a time bound manner. Time bound clearances of payments from the Government have to be ensured, as owing to variety of reasons, thousands of crores remain pending for long periods of time, which has made many units unviable and sick.

On the global front, escalation in trade war between US and China has dampened risk sentiment and outlook for global growth.

RBI's forex reserves increased for USD 412.9B ('19) to USD477.8 ('20) and USD506B (June '20). During the current year, the trajectory of India's trade deficit has been decreasing, despite a fall in exports because of an even greater fall in imports. With the expected shrinking of the current account deficit in every quarter and the balance of payments surplus expected to continue through the current fiscal, the rupee is expected to strengthen in spite of RBI interventions.

Operational Revenue & Profits:

The operating results of the Company have been affected, in a year that presented unprecedented challenges in each of the different segments of the Company's business. The consumer sentiment was lacklustre, across channels, with possibly the exception of our web-store, which also was locked down during the latter part of March. During the year, the Company apart from initiating several efforts to expedite the growth of its online business, has also, besides closing down (16) unviable stores, started to move from the fixed rental model to a revenue share model in respect of most of its retail stores, thereby converting fixed expenses to variable expenses wherever possible and moving to an asset light model. This, and several other initiatives are expected to aid the Company in reducing a large part of its fixed expenses and bring down its losses substantially. The Company's exports during the year also declined due to the slowdown (more acute in the last quarter because of Covid in the US/EU) in the demand, reduction in reimbursement of duties and competition from China, Bangladesh and Vietnam. Interest cost swelled despite reduction in borrowings, due to delayed payments on account of reimbursements of various kinds including GST refund involving inverted duty structure

During the Year:

The Company is in compliance with the Code of Conduct for Prevention of Insider Trading formulated in terms of the provisions of SEBI (Prohibition of Insider Trading) Regulations, 2015, as amended from time to time. During the year, 12 new Stores were opened (16 unviable stores closed – a net decrease of 4 stores) with 116 stores at the end of the year.

Other Information

6. The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the chairman's statement, director's report, annexure to the director's report, report on corporate governance and management discussion and analysis but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of management and those charged with governance for the standalone financial statements

7. The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Accounting Standards specified under section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.
8. In preparing the standalone financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so. The Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the standalone financial statements

9. Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.
10. As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
 - Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3) (i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
 - Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
 - Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- 11. We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
- 12. We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.
- 13. From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Report on other legal and regulatory requirements

As required by the Companies (Auditor's Report) Order, 2016 ("the Order"), issued by the Central Government of India in terms of sub-section (11) of section 143 of the Act, we give in the Annexure B a statement on the matters specified in paragraphs 3 and 4 of the Order, to the extent applicable.

ANNEXURE “A” TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITORS’ REPORT

Referred to in paragraph 15(f) of the Independent Auditor’s Report of even date to the members of Zodiac Clothing Company Limited on the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2020

Report on the Internal Financial Controls with reference to financial statements under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Act

1. We have audited the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements of Zodiac Clothing Company Limited (“the Company”) as of March 31, 2020 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management’s Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

2. The Company’s management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company’s policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditors’ Responsibility

3. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls with reference to financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the “Guidance Note”) and the Standards on Auditing deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Act to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of internal financial controls and both issued by the ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.
4. Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system with reference to financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.
5. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company’s internal financial controls system with reference to financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to financial statements

6. A company’s internal financial controls with reference to financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company’s internal financial controls with reference to financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company’s assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to financial statements

7. Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control controls with reference to financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

8. In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system with reference to financial statements and such internal financial controls with reference to financial statements were operating effectively as at March 31, 2020, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Also, refer paragraph 4 of our main report.

Company Secretary

1 Background and Operations

Zodiac Clothing Company Limited ('the Company') incorporated in India having registered office at Mumbai and Manufacturing facilities at Bengaluru, Umbergaon and Mumbai. The Company is a leading garment manufacturing Company and having retail stores spread across India.

2 Significant accounting policies

(a) Basis of preparation of Standalone Financial Statements

(i) Compliance with Ind AS

The standalone financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (hereinafter referred to as the 'Ind AS') notified under section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the 'Act') [Companies (Indian Accounting standards) Rules, 2015], and other relevant provisions of the Act.

(ii) Going Concern Assessment

The Directors of the Company have assessed its liquidity position (including the impact of COVID-19 and its possible sources of funds under various scenarios). The Board of Directors are confident of the Company's ability to meet its obligation in next twelve months from the balance sheet date under all scenarios. Accordingly these financial statements have been prepared on going concern basis.

(iii) Historical cost convention

The financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for the following:

- 1) certain financial assets and liabilities (including derivative instruments) that are measured at fair value;
- 2) defined benefit plans - plan assets measured at fair value;

(iv) New and amended standards adopted by the Company

The Company has applied the following standards and amendments for the first time for their annual reporting period commencing April 01, 2019:

- Ind AS 116, Leases
- Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments - Appendix C to Ind AS 12, Income Taxes
- Plan Amendment, Curtailment or Settlement - Amendments to Ind AS 19, Employee Benefits
- Amendment to Ind AS 12, Income Taxes
- Amendment to Ind AS 23, Borrowing Costs

The Company had to change its accounting policies as a result of adopting Ind AS 116. The details are disclosed in Note 48. The other amendments listed above did not have any impact on the amounts recognised in prior periods and are not expected to significantly affect the current or future periods.

(v) Current and non-current classification

All assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle (twelve months) and other criteria set out in the Schedule III to the Act.

(vi) Rounding off amounts

All amounts disclosed in the standalone financial statements and notes have been rounded off to the nearest lakhs, unless otherwise stated.

(b) Use of estimates and judgments

The estimates and judgments used in the preparation of the standalone financial statements are continuously evaluated by the Company and are based on historical experience and various other assumptions and factors (including expectations of future events) that the company believes to be reasonable under the existing circumstances. Differences between actual results and estimates are recognised in the period in which the results are known/materialised. The said estimates are based on the facts and events, that existed as at the reporting date, or that occurred after that date but provide additional evidence about conditions existing as at the reporting date.

(c) Property, plant and equipment

Freehold land is carried at historical cost. All other items of property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less depreciation and impairment, if any. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognised when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss during the reporting period in which they are incurred.

Depreciation methods, estimated useful lives and residual value

The Company depreciates its property, plant and equipment on a straight line method net of residual values over the useful life in the manner prescribed in Schedule II of the Act, and management believe that useful lives of assets are same as those prescribed in schedule II of the Act, except for the following class of assets, useful life for which is based on a technical evaluation and taking into consideration nature of Company's business and past experience of usage of such assets:

Description of asset	Useful life followed by the Company	Useful life as prescribed under Schedule II
Plant and equipment	21 Years	15 Years
Furniture and fixtures	16 Years	10 Years
Office equipments	21 Years	5 Years
Computer (Including Servers)	6 Years	3-6 Years
Electrical Installation	21 Years	10 Years

Leasehold improvements are amortised over the period of lease or estimated useful lives of such assets, whichever is lower. Period of lease is either the primary lease period or where the Company as a lessee has the right of renewal of lease, and it is intended to renew for further periods, then such extended period.

The residual values are generally not more than 5% of the original cost of the asset.

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount. Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount. These are included in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(d) Investment properties

Property that is held for long-term rental yields or for capital appreciation or both, and that is not occupied by the Company, is classified as investment property. Investment property is initially recognized at cost, including related transaction costs and where applicable borrowing costs. Subsequent expenditure is capitalised to the asset's carrying amount only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance costs are expensed when incurred. When part of an investment property is replaced, the carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised.

Investment properties, net of residual value are depreciated using the straight-line method over their useful life in the manner prescribed in Schedule II of the Act, and management believe that useful lives of assets are same as those prescribed in schedule II of the Act.

(e) Intangible assets

Computer software

Computer software are stated at cost, less accumulated amortisation and impairments, if any.

Amortisation method

The Company amortizes intangible assets using the straight-line method over following period:

Nature of intangible asset	Useful life
- Computer Software	6 Years

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount. These are included in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(f) Lease

As lessee

Till March 31, 2019:

Leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are not transferred to the Company as lessee are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight-line basis over the period of the lease unless the payments are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the lessor's expected inflationary cost increases.

With effect from April 01, 2019:

The Company has adopted Ind AS 116-Leases effective April 01, 2019, using the modified retrospective method. The Group has applied the standard to its leases retrospectively to all the contracts existing on April 01, 2019, with cumulative effect of initially applying the new standard recognized to the retained earnings on the date of initial application. Accordingly, previous period information has not been restated.

The Company's lease asset classes primarily consist of leases for Land and Buildings. The Company assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease, at inception of a contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

At the date of commencement of the lease, the Company recognises a right-of-use asset ("ROU") and a corresponding lease liability for all lease arrangements in which it is a lessee, except for leases with a term of twelve months or less (short term leases) and leases of low value assets. For these short term and leases of low value assets, the Company recognises the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight line basis over the term of the lease.

The right-of-use assets are initially recognised at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or prior to the commencement date of the lease. They are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Right-of-use assets are depreciated from the commencement date on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and useful life of the underlying asset.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the future lease payments and payments to be made under reasonably certain extension option are also included in measurement of liability. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if not readily determinable, using the incremental borrowing rates. The lease liability is subsequently remeasured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability, reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made.

A lease liability is remeasured upon the occurrence of certain events such as a change in the lease term. The remeasurement normally also adjusts the leased assets. Lease liability and ROU asset have been presented separately on the face of the Balance Sheet and lease payments have been classified as financing cash flows.

As lessor

Till March 31, 2019

Lease income from operating leases where the Company is a lessor is recognised as income on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless the receipts are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the expected inflationary cost increases.

The respective leased assets are included in the balance sheet based on their nature.

With effect from April 01, 2019:

The Company did not need to make any adjustments to the accounting for assets held as lessor as a result of adopting the new lease standard.

(g) Cash and Cash Equivalents

For the purpose of presentation in the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, Bank overdrafts, deposits and other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

(h) Inventories

Inventories of Raw Materials, Work-in-Progress, Stock-in-trade, Stores and spares and Finished Goods are stated 'at cost or net realisable value, whichever is lower'. Cost comprise all cost of purchase, cost of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost formula used is 'First-in-First-Out', 'Weighted Average cost' or 'Specific Identification', as applicable.

Materials and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost if the finished products in which they will be utilised are expected to be sold at or above cost.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated cost of completion and the estimated cost necessary to make the sale.

Slow-moving, non-moving & defective inventories are identified and wherever necessary, provision is made for such inventories considering various factors such as likely usage, obsolescence etc.

(i) Investment in subsidiary

Investment in subsidiary is recognised at cost (less, impairment, if any), as per Ind AS - 27 'Separate Financial Statements'.

(j) Investments and other financial assets

(i) Classification

The Company classifies its financial assets in the following measurement categories:

- * those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either through other comprehensive income, or through the Statement of Profit and Loss), and
- * those measured at amortised cost.

The classification depends on the company's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows.

For assets measured at fair value, gains and losses will either be recorded in the Statement of Profit and Loss or other comprehensive income. For investments in debt instruments, this will depend on the business model in which the investment is held. For investments in equity instruments, this will depend on whether the Company has made an irrevocable election at the time of initial recognition to account for the equity investment at fair value through other comprehensive income.

(ii) Recognition

Purchases and sales of financial assets are recognised on trade - date, being the date on which the Company commits to purchase or sale the financial asset.

(iii) Measurement

At initial recognition, the Company measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at fair value through the Statement of Profit and Loss are expensed in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Debt instruments:

Subsequent measurement of debt instruments depends on the Company's business model for managing the asset and the cash flow characteristics of the asset. There are three measurement categories into which the Company classifies its debt instruments:

* Amortised cost: Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at amortised cost. Interest income from these financial assets is included in other income using the effective interest rate method.

* Fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI): Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows and for selling the financial assets, where the assets' cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI). Movements in the carrying amount are taken through OCI, except for the recognition of impairment losses, interest revenue which are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. When the financial asset is derecognised, the cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from equity to the Statement of Profit and Loss and recognised in other income/expense. Interest income from these financial assets is included in other income using the effective interest rate method.

* Fair value through profit and loss: Assets that do not meet the criteria for amortised cost or FVOCI are measured at fair value through Statement of Profit and Loss. Interest income from these financial assets is included in other income.

Equity instruments:

The Company subsequently measures all equity investments at fair value. Where the Company has elected to present fair value gains and losses on equity investments in other comprehensive income, there is no subsequent reclassification of fair value gains and losses to the Statement of Profit and Loss. Dividends from such investments are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as other income when the Company's right to receive payments is established.

Changes in the fair value of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognised as other income in the Statement of profit or loss. Impairment losses (and reversal of impairment losses) on equity investments measured at FVOCI are not reported separately from other changes in fair value.

(iv) Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind-AS 109, the Company applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the following financial assets and credit risk exposure:

- (a) Financial assets that are debt instruments, are measured at amortised cost e.g., loans, deposits, and bank balance.
- (b) Trade receivables - The application of simplified approach does not require the Company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition. Trade receivables are tested for impairment on a specific basis after considering the sanctioned credit limits, security like letters of credit, security deposit collected etc. and expectations about future cash flows.

(v) Derecognition

A financial asset is derecognised only when

- the Company has transferred the rights to receive the cash flows from the financial asset or
- retains the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of the financial asset, but assumes a contractual obligation to pay the cash flows to one or more recipients.

Where the entity has transferred an asset, the Company evaluates whether it has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset. In such cases, the financial asset is derecognised. Where the entity has not transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset is not derecognised.

(vi) Income recognition

Interest income

Interest income from debt instruments is recognised using the effective interest rate method.

Dividends

Dividends are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss only when the right to receive payment is established.

(k) Borrowings

Borrowings are initially recognised at net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost. Any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption amount is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method.

(l) Borrowing costs

General and specific borrowing costs that are attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalised during the period of time that is required to complete and prepare the asset for its intended use or sale.

Qualifying assets are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale.

Other interest and borrowing costs are charged to Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they are incurred.

(m) Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amount can be reliably estimated. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses.

Provisions are measured at the present value of management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period. The discount rate used to determine the present value is a pre tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as interest expense in Statement of Profit and loss.

Contingent Liabilities are disclosed in respect of possible obligations that arise from past events but their existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non occurrence of one or more uncertain future events.

A contingent asset is disclosed in respect of possible asset that may arise from past event and whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non occurrence of one or more uncertain future events.

(n) Revenue recognition

Sale of goods - Wholesale

Sales are recognised when the control of the goods has been transferred to customer which is generally on delivery of goods and there is no unfulfilled obligation that could affect the customer's acceptance of the product. Delivery occurs when the products have been shipped to the specific location, risk of obsolescence and loss have been transfer to customer and the Company has objective evidence that all criteria for the acceptance have been satisfied.

A receivable is recognised when the goods are delivered as this is the point in time that the consideration is unconditional because only the passage of time is required before the payment is due.

Sale of goods - Retail

The Company operates a chain of retail stores. Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when the Company sells a product to the customer. Payment of transaction price is generally due immediately when the customer purchases the goods and takes delivery in store.

Sales return

Accumulated experience is used to estimate and provide for the sales return, using the expected value method, and revenue is only recognised to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal will not occur. A refund liability (included in other current liabilities) is recognised for expected sales return in relation to sales made until the end of the reporting period.

Service income

Sale of services - Revenue is recognised based on actual service provided at the end of the reporting period as proportion of total service to be provided.

Other operating revenue - Export incentives

Export incentives under various schemes of Government of India are accounted on accrual basis on the basis of exports made and when there is reasonable assurance that the Company will comply with the conditions and incentive will be received.

(o) Employee benefits

(i) Short-term obligations

Liabilities for wages and salaries, including non-monetary benefits that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service are recognised in respect of employees' services up to the end of the reporting period and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled.

(ii) Other long-term employee benefit obligations

The liabilities for earned leave are not expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service. An actuarial valuation is obtained at the end of reporting period. The present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the end of the reporting period using the projected unit credit method.

The obligations are presented as current liabilities in the balance sheet, if the Company does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least twelve months after the reporting period, regardless of when the actual settlement is expected to occur.

(iii) Post-employment obligations

Defined Benefits Plan

Gratuity obligations

The liability or asset recognised in the balance sheet in respect of defined gratuity plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets. The defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by actuaries using the projected unit credit method.

The net interest cost is calculated by actuary applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets. This cost is included in employee benefit expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognised in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income. They are included in retained earnings in the statement of changes in equity and in the balance sheet.

Changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligation resulting from plan amendments or curtailments as calculated by actuary are recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss as past service cost.

Defined Contribution Plans

The Company pays Provident Fund (PF) contributions, Employees State Insurance Scheme (ESIC) etc., to publicly administered funds as per local regulations. The Company has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The contributions are accounted for as defined contribution plans and the contributions are recognised as employee benefits expense when they are due.

(iv) Termination benefits

Termination benefits are payable when employment is terminated by the company before the normal retirement date, or when an employee accepts voluntary redundancy in exchange for these benefits. The company recognises termination benefits at the earlier of the following dates: (a) when the company can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits; and (b) when the company recognises costs for structuring that is within the scope of Ind AS-37 and involves the payment of terminations benefits. In the case of an offer made to encourage voluntary redundancy, the termination benefits are measured based on the number of employees expected to accept the offer. Benefits falling due more than 12 months after the end of the reporting period are discounted to present value.

(p) Foreign currency transactions

(i) Functional and presentation currency

The financial statements are presented in Indian rupee (INR), which is Company's functional and presentation currency.

(ii) Transactions and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are recognised at the prevailing exchange rates on the transaction dates. Realised gains and losses on settlement of foreign currency transactions are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Monetary foreign currency assets and liabilities at the year-end are translated at the year-end exchange rates and the resultant exchange differences are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Foreign exchange differences regarded as an adjustment to borrowing costs are presented in the statement of profit and loss, within finance costs. All other foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in the statement of profit and loss on a net basis within other income.

(q) Derivative and hedging activities

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period. The accounting for subsequent changes in fair value depends on whether the derivative is designated as a hedging instrument, and if so, the nature of the item being hedged and the type of hedge relationship designated.

The Company designates their derivatives as hedges of foreign exchange risk associated with the cash flows of firm commitment transactions (sales orders/purchase orders) (cash flow hedges).

The Company documents at the inception of the hedging transaction the economic relationship between hedging instruments and hedged items including whether the hedging instrument is expected to offset changes in cash flows of hedged items. The Company documents its risk management objectives and strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions at the inception of each hedge relationship.

The full fair value of a hedging derivative is classified as a non-current asset or liability when the remaining maturity of the hedged item is more than 12 months; it is classified as a current asset or liability when the remaining maturity of the hedged item is less than or equal to 12 months.

Cash flow hedges that qualify for hedge accounting –

The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualify as cash flow hedges is recognised in the other comprehensive income in cash flow hedging reserve within equity, limited to the cumulative change in fair value of the hedged item on a present value basis from the inception of the hedge. The gain or loss relating to the ineffective portion is recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

When forward contracts are used to hedge forecast transactions, the Company designates them in entirety as the hedging instrument. Gains or losses relating to effective portion of fair value of forward contracts are recognised in the other comprehensive income in the cash flow hedging reserve within other equity.

When the option contracts are used to hedge forecast transactions, the Company designates only the intrinsic value of the option contract as the hedging instrument.

Derivative Contracts other than cash flow hedges: Derivative contracts which are not designated as cash flow hedges, are accounted for at fair value through profit or loss and are included in Statement of Profit and Loss.

(r) Income tax

The income tax expense or credit for the period is the tax payable on the current period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences and to unused tax losses.

Deferred income tax is provided in full, using the liability method on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount in the standalone financial statements. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the end of the reporting period and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax assets is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilise those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the company has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

(s) Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing:
- the profit attributable to owners of the company
- by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the financial year, adjusted for bonus elements in equity shares issued during the year and excluding treasury shares.

Diluted earnings per share

Diluted earnings per share adjusts the figures used in the determination of basic earnings per share to take into account:

- the after income tax effect of interest and other financing costs associated with dilutive potential equity shares, and
- the weighted average number of additional equity shares that would have been outstanding assuming the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

The calculation of diluted earnings per share does not assume conversion, exercise, or other issue of potential ordinary shares that would have an antidilutive effect on earnings per share.

(t) Segment Reporting:

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision maker(CODM).

The CODM, being the Managing Director assesses the financial performance and position of the Company and makes strategic decisions.

(u) Impairment of non-financial assets:

Intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life are not subject to amortisation and are tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired. Other assets are tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. For the purpose of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash inflows which are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or group of assets (cash-generating units). Non-financial assets that suffered an impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at the end of each reporting period.

(v) Government Grants

Grants from the government are recognised at their fair value where there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and the Company will comply with all the attached conditions.

(w) Dividend

Provision is made for the amount of any dividend declared, being appropriately authorised and no longer at the discretion of the entity, on or before the end of the reporting period but not distributed at the end of the reporting period.

3 Critical estimates and judgements

The preparation of standalone financial statements requires the use of accounting estimates which by definition will seldom equal the actual results.

This note provides an overview of the areas that involved a higher degree of judgement or complexity, and items which are more likely to be materially adjusted due to estimates and assumptions turning out to be different than those originally assessed. Detailed information about each of these estimates and judgements is included in relevant notes together with information about the basis of calculation for each affected line item in the standalone financial statements.

The areas involving critical estimates or judgement are:

- Estimation of Defined benefit obligation (Refer Note 42).
- Recoverability of deferred tax assets (Refer Note 37).
- Allowance for doubtful debts (Refer Note 14 and 46).
- Fair value of Investment properties (Refer Note 5)
- Direct tax litigations (Refer Note 39)
- Determination of lease term (Refer Note 4(c))
- Impairment of non-financial assets (Refer Note 2(u))
- Impact of Covid-19 (Refer Note 49)

4(c) Leases (Contd...)

Particulars	Note	Year Ended March 31, 2020
Gain on remeasurement of lease contracts (included in other income)	29	172.84
Interest expense (included in finance costs)	33	939.57
Expense relating to short-term leases (included in other expenses)	35	317.14
Expense relating to variable lease payments not included in lease liabilities	35	35.92
The total cash outflow for leases for the year ended March 31, 2020 was ₹ 3,505.66 Lakhs (including short term and variable lease payments).
(iii) Variable Lease Payments Some property leases contain variable payment terms that are linked to sales generate from a store. For individual stores, up to 100% of lease payments are on the basis of variable payment terms with percentages ranging from 10% to 30% of sales. Variable payment terms are used for a variety of reasons, including minimising the fixed costs base for newly established stores. Variable lease payments that depend on sales are recognised in statement of profit or loss in the period in which the condition that triggers those payments occurs. A 10% increase in sales across all stores in the company with such variable lease contracts would increase total lease payments by approximately by ₹ 3.59 Lakhs.
(iv) Extension and termination options Extension and termination options are included in a number of property leases across the Company. These are used to maximise operational flexibility in terms of managing the assets used in the Company's operations. The majority of extension and termination options held are exercisable only by the Company and not by the respective lessor.
(v) Critical judgments in determining the lease term In determining the lease term, management considers all facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive to exercise an option, or not exercise a termination option. Extension options (or periods after termination options) are only included in the lease term if the lease is reasonably certain to be extended. For leases of retail stores, the Company considers factors such as historical lease durations and the costs and business disruption required to replace the leased asset.

Terms and Conditions:

Transactions are made in ordinary course of business and on normal terms and conditions.

Outstanding balances are unsecured and repayable in cash.

45 Fair Value Measurement:

(i) Financial Instrument by category and hierarchy.

The fair values of the financial assets and liabilities are included at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

1. Fair value of trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents, other bank balances, other current financial assets, trade payables, and other current financial liabilities approximate their carrying amounts largely due to short term maturities of these instruments.
2. Financial instruments with fixed and variable interest rates are evaluated by the Company based on parameters such as interest rates and individual credit worthiness of the counterparty. Based on this evaluation, allowances are taken to account for expected losses of these receivables. Accordingly, fair value of such instruments is not materially different from their carrying amounts.

The fair values for loans and security deposits were calculated based on cash flows discounted using a current lending rate. They are classified as level 3 fair values in the fair value hierarchy due to the inclusion of unobservable inputs including counter party credit risk.

The interest rate on term deposits is at the prevailing market rates. Accordingly, fair value of such instrument is not materially different from their carrying amounts.

The interest rate on borrowing is at the prevailing market rates. Accordingly, fair value of such instruments is not materially different from their carrying amounts.

For financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value, the carrying amounts are equal to the fair values.

The Company uses the following hierarchy for determining and disclosing the fair value of financial instruments by valuation technique:

Level 1: quoted (unadjusted) prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: other techniques for which all inputs which have a significant effect on the recorded fair value are observable, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3: techniques which use inputs that have a significant effect on the recorded fair value that are not based on observable market data.

46 Financial Risk Management:

Financial risk management objectives and policies

The Company's financial risk management is an integral part of how to plan and execute its business strategies. The Company's financial risk management policy is set by the Management.

(A) Market Risk

Market risk is the risk of loss of future earnings, fair values or future cash flows that may result from a change in the price of a financial instrument. The value of a financial instrument may change as a result of changes in the interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates, equity prices and other market changes that affect market risk sensitive instruments. Market risk is attributable to all market risk sensitive financial instruments including investments, future committed transactions, foreign currency receivables, payables, borrowings etc.

The Company manages market risk through its finance department (headed by CFO), which evaluates and exercises independent control over the entire process of market risk management. The finance department recommend risk management objectives and policies, which are approved by Senior Management and the Audit Committee. The activities of this department include management of cash resources, implementing hedging strategies for foreign currency exposures like foreign exchange forward contracts, option contracts, borrowing strategies and ensuring compliance with market risk limits and policies.

Market Risk- Interest rate risk.

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of the financial instruments will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. In order to optimize the Company's position with regards to interest income and interest expenses and to manage the interest rate risk, treasury performs a comprehensive corporate interest rate risk management by balancing the proportion of fixed rate and floating rate financial instruments in its total portfolio.

According to the Company interest rate risk exposure is only for floating rate borrowings. For floating rate liabilities, the analysis is prepared assuming the amount of the liability outstanding at the end of the reporting period was outstanding for the whole year. A 50 basis point increase or decrease is used when reporting interest rate risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

Market Risk- Foreign currency risk

The Company operates internationally and portion of the business is transacted in several currencies and consequently the Company is exposed to foreign exchange risk through its sales, purchases and borrowings in various foreign currencies.

(B) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of incurring a loss that may arise from a borrower or debtor failing to make required payments. Credit risk arises mainly from trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents, deposit with banks, derivative financial instruments, investments, loan to employee and security deposits. The Company manages and analyses the credit risk for each of its new customers before standard payment and delivery terms and conditions are offered.

Credit risk on cash and cash equivalents, deposit with banks, derivative financial instruments and investment is limited as Company generally deals with banks and financial institutions with high credit ratings assigned by credit rating agencies. Investments primarily include investment in liquid mutual and accredited venture fund.

While loans in the form of security deposits and loan to employees are subjected to the impairment requirement of Ind AS 109, the identified impairment loss was immaterial.

(i) Credit risk management:

The Company assesses on a forward looking basis the expected credit losses associated with its assets carried at amortised cost. For trade receivables, the Company applies the simplified approach permitted by Ind AS 109 Financial Instrument, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the receivables. When determining whether the credit risk of a financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition and when estimating expected credit losses, the Company considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes both quantitative and qualitative information and analysis, based on the Company's historical experience and informed credit assessment and including forward looking information.

Sale to retail customers are required to be settled in cash or using major cards, mitigating credit risk. There are no significant concentrations of credit risk, whether through exposure to individual customers, specific industry sectors or regions.

In respect of sales to export customers, there are no past history of losses, thus the identified expected credit loss was immaterial.

Credit risk for domestic trade receivable is managed by the Company through credit approvals, establishing credit limits and periodic monitoring of the creditworthiness of its customers to which the Company grants credit terms in the normal course of business.

48 Changes in Accounting Policies

Ind AS 116 - Leases

As indicated in note 2(a)(iv) Significant accounting policies, the Company has adopted Ind AS 116 retrospectively from April 01, 2019, but has not restated comparatives for year ended March 31, 2019, as permitted under the specific provisions in the standard.

The reclassifications and the adjustments arising from the new leasing rules are therefore recognised in the opening balance sheet on April 01, 2019. The new accounting policies are disclosed in note 2(f).

On adoption of Ind AS 116, the Company recognised lease liabilities in relation to leases which had previously been classified as 'operating leases' under the principles of Ind AS 17, Leases. These liabilities were measured at the present value of remaining lease payments, discounted using the lessee's incremental borrowing rate as of April 01, 2019. The weighted average lessee's incremental borrowing rate applied to the lease liabilities on April 01, 2019 was 9.00%.

(i) Practical expedients applied

In applying Ind AS 116 for the first time, the Company has used the following practical expedients permitted by the standard:

- applying a single discount rate to a portfolio of leases with reasonably similar characteristics.
 - relying on previous assessments on whether leases are onerous as an alternative to performing an impairment review
 - there were no onerous contracts as at April 01, 2019
 - accounting for operating leases with a remaining lease term of less than 12 months as at April 01, 2019 as short-term leases
 - excluding initial direct costs for the measurement of the right-of-use asset at the date of initial application, and
 - using hindsight in determining the lease term where the contract contains options to extend or terminate the lease.
- The Company has also elected not to reassess whether a contract is, or contains a lease at the date of initial application. Instead, for contracts entered into before the transition date the Company relied on its assessment made applying Ind AS 17 and Appendix C to Ind AS 17, Determining whether and Arrangement contains a Lease.

Other Information

6. The Holding Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the chairman's statement, director's report, annexure to director's report, report on corporate governance and management discussion and analysis, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed and the reports of the other auditors as furnished to us, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

7. The Holding Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation and presentation of these consolidated financial statements in terms of the requirements of the Act that give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position, consolidated financial performance and consolidated cash flows, and changes in equity of the Group in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Accounting Standards specified under section 133 of the Act. The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Group and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, which have been used for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements by the Directors of the Holding Company, as aforesaid.

8. In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group are responsible for assessing the ability of the Group to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.
9. The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group are responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of the Group.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

10. Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.
11. As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:
 - Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3) (i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Holding company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
 - Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
 - Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
 - Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
 - Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of such entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the consolidated financial statements, which have been audited by other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.
12. We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
 13. We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

14. From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

1 Background and Operations

Zodiac Clothing Company Limited ('the Company') incorporated in India and its subsidiary and step down subsidiaries which together constitutes the Zodiac Group ('the Group') mainly deals in garments.

2 Significant accounting policies

(a) Basis of preparation of consolidated Financial Statements

(i) Compliance with Ind AS

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (hereinafter referred to as the 'Ind AS') notified under section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the 'Act') [Companies (Indian Accounting standards) Rules, 2015], and other relevant provisions of the Act.

(ii) Going Concern Assessment

The Directors of the Company have assessed its liquidity position (including the impact of COVID-19 and its possible sources of funds under various scenarios). The Board of Directors are confident of the group's ability to meet its obligation in next twelve months from the balance sheet date under all scenarios. Accordingly these financial statements have been prepared on going concern basis.

(iii) Historical cost convention

The financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for the following:

- 1) certain financial assets and liabilities (including derivative instruments) that are measured at fair value;
- 2) defined benefit plans - plan assets measured at fair value;

(iv) New and amended standards adopted by the Company

The Group has applied the following standard and amendment for the first time for their annual reporting period commencing April 01, 2019:

- Ind AS 116, Leases
- Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments - Appendix C to Ind AS 12, Income Taxes
- Plan Amendment, Curtailment or Settlement - Amendments to Ind AS 19, Employee Benefits
- Amendment to Ind AS 12, Income Taxes
- Amendment to Ind AS 23, Borrowing Costs

The Group had to change its accounting policies as a result of adopting Ind AS 116. The details are disclosed in Note 48. The other amendments listed above did not have any impact on the amounts recognised in prior periods and are not expected to significantly affect the current or future periods.

(v) Current and non-current classification

All assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Group's normal operating cycle (twelve months) and other criteria set out in the Schedule III to the Act.

(vi) Rounding off amounts

All amounts disclosed in the consolidated financial statements and notes have been rounded off to the nearest lakhs, unless otherwise stated.

(b) Principles of consolidation

Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are all entities over which the group has control. The group controls an entity when the group is exposed to, or has rights to, variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect those returns through its power to direct the relevant activities of the entity. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the group. They are deconsolidated from the date that control ceases.

The group combines the financial statements of the parent and its subsidiaries line by line adding together like items of assets, liabilities, equity, income and expenses. Intercompany transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between group companies are eliminated. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the transferred asset. Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the group.

(c) Use of estimates and judgments

The estimates and judgments used in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are continuously evaluated by the Group and are based on historical experience and various other assumptions and factors (including expectations of future events) that the Group believes to be reasonable under the existing circumstances. Differences between actual results and estimates are recognised in the period in which the results are known/materialised. The said estimates are based on the facts and events, that existed as at the reporting date, or that occurred after that date but provide additional evidence about conditions existing as at the reporting date.

(d) Property, plant and equipment

Freehold land is carried at historical cost. All other items of property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less depreciation and impairment, if any. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of any component accounted for as a separate asset is derecognised when replaced. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss during the reporting period in which they are incurred.

Depreciation methods, estimated useful lives and residual value

The Group depreciates its property, plant and equipment on a straight line method net of residual values over the useful life in the manner prescribed in Schedule II of the Act, and management believe that useful lives of assets are same as those prescribed in schedule II of the Act, except for the following class of assets, useful life for which is based on a technical evaluation and taking into consideration nature of Company's business and past experience of usage of such assets.

Description of asset	Useful life followed by the Company	Useful life as prescribed under Schedule II
Plant and equipment	21 Years	15 Years
Furniture and fixtures	16 Years	10 Years
Office equipments	21 Years	5 Years
Computer (including servers)	6 Years	3-6 Years
Electrical Installation	21 Years	10 years

Leasehold improvements are amortised over the period of lease or estimated useful lives of such assets, whichever is lower. Period of lease is either the primary lease period or where the Company as a lessee has the right of renewal of lease, and it is intended to renew for further periods, then such extended period.

In respect of Zodiac Clothing Company (U.A.E.) LLC., UAE, the useful life are as follows:

Description of asset	Useful life
Factory Building	- 10 Years
Plant and equipment	- 8 Years
Furniture and fixtures	- 10 Years
Office equipments	- 10 Years
Vehicles	- 5 Years

The residual values are generally not more than 5% of the original cost of the asset.

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount. Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount. These are included in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(e) Investment properties

Property that is held for long-term rental yields or for capital appreciation or both, and that is not occupied by the Group, is classified as investment property. Investment property is initially recognized at cost, including related transaction costs and where applicable borrowing costs. Subsequent expenditure is capitalised to the asset's carrying amount only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance costs are expensed when incurred. When part of an investment property is replaced, the carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised.

Investment properties, net of residual value are depreciated using the straight-line method over their useful life in the manner prescribed in Schedule II of the Act, and management believe that useful lives of assets are same as those prescribed in schedule II of the Act.

(f) Intangible assets

Computer software

Computer software are stated at cost, less accumulated amortisation and impairments, if any.

Amortisation method

The Group amortizes intangible assets using the straight-line method over following period:

Nature of intangible asset	Useful life
- Computer Software	6 Years

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with carrying amount. These are included in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(g) Lease

As lessee

Till March 31, 2019:

Leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are not transferred to the Group as lessee are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight-line basis over the period of the lease unless the payments are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the lessor's expected inflationary cost increases.

With effect from April 01, 2019:

The Group has adopted Ind AS 116-Leases effective April 01, 2019, using the modified retrospective method. The Group has applied the standard to its leases retrospectively to all the contracts existing on April 01, 2019, with cumulative effect of initially applying the new standard recognized to the retained earnings on the date of initial application. Accordingly, previous period information has not been restated."

The Group's lease asset classes primarily consist of leases for Land and Buildings. The Group assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease, at inception of a contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

At the date of commencement of the lease, the Group recognises a right-of-use asset ("ROU") and a corresponding lease liability for all lease arrangements in which it is a lessee, except for leases with a term of twelve months or less (short term leases) and leases of low value assets. For these short term and leases of low value assets, the Group recognises the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight line basis over the term of the lease.

The right-of-use assets are initially recognised at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or prior to the commencement date of the lease. They are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Right-of-use assets are depreciated from the commencement date on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and useful life of the underlying asset.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the future lease payments. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if not readily determinable, using the incremental borrowing rates. The lease liability is subsequently remeasured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability, reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made. A lease liability is remeasured upon the occurrence of certain events such as a change in the lease term. The remeasurement normally also adjusts the leased assets. Lease liability and ROU asset have been presented separately on the face of the Balance Sheet and lease payments have been classified as financing cash flows.

As lessor

Till March 31, 2019

Lease income from operating leases where the Group is a lessor is recognised as income on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless the receipts are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the expected inflationary cost increases. "

The respective leased assets are included in the balance sheet based on their nature.

With effect from April 01, 2019:

The Group did not need to make any adjustments to the accounting for assets held as lessor as a result of adopting the new lease standard."

(h) Cash and Cash Equivalents

For the purpose of presentation in the statement of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, Bank overdrafts, deposits and other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

(i) Inventories

Inventories of Raw Materials, Work-in-Progress, Stock-in-trade, Stores and spares and Finished Goods are stated 'at cost or net realisable value, whichever is lower'. Cost comprise all cost of purchase, cost of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost formula used is 'First-in-First-Out', 'Weighted Average cost' or 'Specific Identification', as applicable.

Materials and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost if the finished products in which they will be utilised are expected to be sold at or above cost.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated cost of completion and the estimated cost necessary to make the sale.

Slow-moving, non-moving & defective inventories are identified and wherever necessary, provision is made for such inventories considering various factors such as likely usage, obsolescence etc.

The inventories resulting from intra-group transactions have been stated at cost after deducting unrealised profit on such transactions.

(j) Investments and other financial assets

(i) Classification

The Group classifies its financial assets in the following measurement categories:

- * those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either through other comprehensive income, or through the Statement of Profit and Loss), and
- * those measured at amortised cost.

The classification depends on the Group's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows.

For assets measured at fair value, gains and losses will either be recorded in the Statement of Profit and Loss or other comprehensive income. For investments in debt instruments, this will depend on the business model in which the investment is held. For investments in equity instruments, this will depend on whether the Group has made an irrevocable election at the time of initial recognition to account for the equity investment at fair value through other comprehensive income.

(ii) Recognition

Purchases and sales of financial assets are recognised on trade - date, being the date on which the Company commits to purchase or sale the financial asset.

(iii) Measurement

At initial recognition, the Group measures a financial asset at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at fair value through the Statement of Profit and Loss are expensed in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Debt instruments:

Subsequent measurement of debt instruments depends on the Group's business model for managing the asset and the cash flow characteristics of the asset. There are three measurement categories into which the Group classifies its debt instruments:

* Amortised cost: Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at amortised cost. Interest income from these financial assets is included in other income using the effective interest rate method.

* Fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI): Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows and for selling the financial assets, where the assets' cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI). Movements in the carrying amount are taken through OCI, except for the recognition of impairment losses, interest revenue which are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. When the financial asset is derecognised, the cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from equity to the Statement of Profit and Loss and recognised in other income/expense. Interest income from these financial assets is included in other income using the effective interest rate method.

* Fair value through profit and loss: Assets that do not meet the criteria for amortised cost or FVOCI are measured at fair value through Statement of Profit and Loss. Interest income from these financial assets is included in other income.

Equity instruments:

The Group subsequently measures all equity investments at fair value. Where the Group has elected to present fair value gains and losses on equity investments in other comprehensive income, there is no subsequent reclassification of fair value gains and losses to the Statement of Profit and Loss. Dividends from such investments are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as other income when the Group's right to receive payments is established.

Changes in the fair value of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognised in other income in the Statement of profit or loss. Impairment losses (and reversal of impairment losses) on equity investments measured at FVOCI are not reported separately from other changes in fair value.

(iv) Impairment of financial assets

In accordance with Ind-AS 109, the group applies expected credit loss (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of impairment loss on the following financial assets and credit risk exposure:

- (a) Financial assets that are debt instruments, are measured at amortised cost e.g., loans, deposits, and bank balance.
- (b) Trade receivables - The application of simplified approach does not require the group to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition. Trade receivables are tested for impairment on a specific basis after considering the sanctioned credit limits, security like letters of credit, security deposit collected etc. and expectations about future cash flows.

(v) Derecognition

A financial asset is derecognised only when

- the group has transferred the rights to receive the cash flows from the financial asset or
- retains the contractual rights to receive the cash flows of the financial asset, but assumes a contractual obligation to pay the cash flows to one or more recipients.

Where the entity has transferred an asset, the group evaluates whether it has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset. In such cases, the financial asset is derecognised. Where the entity has not transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset is not derecognised."

(vi) Income recognition

Interest income

Interest income from debt instruments is recognised using the effective interest rate method.

Dividends

Dividends are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss only when the right to receive payment is established.

(k) Borrowings

Borrowings are initially recognised at net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost. Any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption amount is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method.

(l) Borrowing costs

General and specific borrowing costs that are attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalised during the period of time that is required to complete and prepare the asset for its intended use or sale.

Qualifying assets are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale.

Other interest and borrowing costs are charged to Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they are incurred.

(m) Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amount can be reliably estimated. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses.

Provisions are measured at the present value of management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period. The discount rate used to determine the present value is a pre tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as interest expense in Statement of Profit and loss.

Contingent Liabilities are disclosed in respect of possible obligations that arise from past events but their existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non occurrence of one or more uncertain future events.

A contingent asset is disclosed in respect of possible asset that may arise from past event and whose existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non occurrence of one or more uncertain future events.

(n) Revenue recognition

Sale of goods - Wholesale

Sales are recognised when the control of the goods has been transferred to customer which is generally on delivery of goods and there is no unfulfilled obligation that could affect the customer's acceptance of the product. Delivery occurs when the products have been shipped to the specific location, risk of obsolescence and loss have been transfer to customer and the group has objective evidence that all criteria for the acceptance have been satisfied. A receivable is recognised when the goods are delivered as this is the point in time that the consideration is unconditional because only the passage of time is required before the payment is due.

Sale of goods - Retail

The group operates a chain of retail stores. Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when the group entity sells a product to the customer. Payment of transaction price is generally due immediately when the customer purchases the goods and takes delivery in store.

Sales return

Accumulated experience is used to estimate and provide for the sales return, using the expected value method, and revenue is only recognised to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal will not occur. A refund liability (included in other current liabilities) is recognised for expected sales return in relation to sales made until the end of the reporting period.

Service income

Sale of services - Revenue is recognised based on actual service provided at the end of the reporting period as proportion of total service to be provided.

Other operating revenue - Export incentives -

Export incentives under various schemes of Government of India are accounted on accrual basis on the basis of exports made and when there is reasonable assurance that the group entity will comply with the conditions and incentive will be received.

(o) Employee benefits

(i) Short-term obligations

Liabilities for wages and salaries, including non-monetary benefits that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service are recognised in respect of employees' services up to the end of the reporting period and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled.

(ii) Other long-term employee benefit obligations

The liabilities for earned leave are not expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service. An actuarial valuation is obtained at the end of reporting period. The present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the end of the reporting period using the projected unit credit method.

The obligations are presented as current liabilities in the balance sheet if the Group does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least twelve months after the reporting period, regardless of when the actual settlement is expected to occur.

(iii) Post-employment obligations

Defined Benefits Plan

Gratuity obligations

The liability or asset recognised in the balance sheet in respect of defined gratuity plans is the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the end of the reporting period less the fair value of plan assets. The defined benefit obligation is calculated annually by actuaries using the projected unit credit method.

The net interest cost is calculated by actuary applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets. This cost is included in employee benefit expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Remeasurement gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are recognised in the period in which they occur, directly in other comprehensive income. They are included in retained earnings in the statement of changes in equity and in the balance sheet.

Changes in the present value of the defined benefit obligation resulting from plan amendments or curtailments as calculated by actuary are recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss as past service cost.

Defined Contribution Plans

The Group pays Provident Fund (PF) contributions, Employees State Insurance Scheme (ESIC) etc., to publicly administered funds as per local regulations. The Group has no further payment obligations once the contributions have been paid. The contributions are accounted for as defined contribution plans and the contributions are recognised as employee benefits expense when they are due.

Termination benefits

Termination benefits are payable when employment is terminated by the Group before the normal retirement date, or when an employee accepts voluntary redundancy in exchange for these benefits. The Group recognises termination benefits at the earlier of the following dates: (a) when the Group can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits; and (b) when the Group recognises costs for restructuring that is within the scope of Ind AS-37 and involves the payment of terminations benefits. In the case of an offer made to encourage voluntary redundancy, the termination benefits are measured based on the number of employees expected to accept the offer. Benefits falling due more than 12 months after the end of the reporting period are discounted to present value.

(p) Foreign currency transactions

(i) Functional and presentation currency

The financial statements are presented in Indian rupee (INR), which is Group's functional and presentation currency.

(ii) Transactions and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are recognised at the prevailing exchange rates on the transaction dates. Realised gains and losses on settlement of foreign currency transactions are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Monetary foreign currency assets and liabilities at the year-end are translated at the year-end exchange rates and the resultant exchange differences are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Foreign exchange differences regarded as an adjustment to borrowing costs are presented in the statement of profit and loss, within finance costs. All other foreign exchange gains and losses are presented in the statement of profit and loss on a net basis within other income.

(iii) Group Companies

The results and financial position of foreign operations that have a functional currency different from the presentation currency are translated into the presentation currency as follows:

- assets and liabilities are translated at the closing rate at the date of that balance sheet
- income and expenses are translated at average exchange rates (unless this is not a reasonable approximation of the cumulative effect of the rates prevailing on the transaction dates, in which case income and expenses are translated at the dates of the transactions), and
- all resulting exchange differences are recognised in other comprehensive income.

When a foreign operation is sold, the associated exchange differences are reclassified to statement of profit and loss, as a part of gain or loss on sale.

(q) Derivative and hedging activities

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value on the date a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period. The accounting for subsequent changes in fair value depends on whether the derivative is designated as a hedging instrument, and if so, the nature of the item being hedged and the type of hedge relationship designated.

The Group designates their derivatives as hedges of foreign exchange risk associated with the cash flows of firm commitment transactions (sales orders/purchase orders) (cash flow hedges).

The Group documents at the inception of the hedging transaction the economic relationship between hedging instruments and hedged items including whether the hedging instrument is expected to offset changes in cash flows of hedged items. The Group documents its risk management objectives and strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions at the inception of each hedge relationship.

The full fair value of a hedging derivative is classified as a non-current asset or liability when the remaining maturity of the hedged item is more than 12 months; it is classified as a current asset or liability when the remaining maturity of the hedged item is less than or equal to 12 months.

Cash flow hedges that qualify for hedge accounting –

The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualify as cash flow hedges is recognised in the other comprehensive income in cash flow hedging reserve within equity, limited to the cumulative change in fair value of the hedged item on a present value basis from the inception of the hedge. The gain or loss relating to the ineffective portion is recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

When forward contracts are used to hedge forecast transactions, the Group designates them in entirety as the hedging instrument. Gains or losses relating to effective portion of fair value of forward contracts are recognised in the other comprehensive income in the cash flow hedging reserve within other equity.

When the option contracts are used to hedge forecast transactions, the Group designates only the intrinsic value of the option contract as the hedging instrument.

Derivative Contracts other than cash flow hedges: Derivative contracts which are not designated as cash flow hedges, are accounted for at fair value through profit or loss and are included in Statement of Profit and Loss.

(r) Income tax

The income tax expense or credit for the period is the tax payable on the current period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences and to unused tax losses.

Deferred income tax is provided in full, using the liability method on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount in the consolidated financial statements. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the end of the reporting period and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax assets is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilise those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the Group has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

(s) Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing:

- the profit attributable to owners of the Group
- by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the financial year, adjusted for bonus elements in equity shares issued during the year and excluding treasury shares.

Diluted earnings per share

Diluted earnings per share adjusts the figures used in the determination of basic earnings per share to take into account:

- the after income tax effect of interest and other financing costs associated with dilutive potential equity shares, and
- the weighted average number of additional equity shares that would have been outstanding assuming the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. The calculation of diluted earnings per share does not assume conversion, exercise, or other issue of potential ordinary shares that would have an antidilutive effect on earnings per share.

(t) Segment Reporting:

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the chief operating decision maker (CODM). The CODM, being the Managing Director of the Company, assesses the financial performance and position of the Group and makes strategic decisions.

(u) Impairment of non-financial assets:

Intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life are not subject to amortisation and are tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired. Other assets are tested for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. For the purpose of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash inflows which are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or group of assets (cash-generating units). Non-financial assets that suffered an impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at the end of each reporting period.

(v) Government Grants

Grants from the government are recognised at their fair value where there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and the Group will comply with all the attached conditions.

(w) Dividend

Provision is made for the amount of any dividend declared, being appropriately authorised and no longer at the discretion of the entity, on or before the end of the reporting period but not distributed at the end of the reporting period.

(x) Recent Accounting Pronouncements:

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) has issued the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2020 on 24 July 2020. The amendments to Ind AS are:

- Amendment to Ind AS 116 - Optional practical expedient for lessees from assessing whether a rent concession related to COVID-19 is a lease modification
- Amendment to Ind AS 103 - Revises the definition of a business
- Amendment to Ind AS 107 - Provide certain reliefs in connection with interest rate benchmark reform
- Amendment to Ind AS 1 - Clarifies the definition of material and make Ind ASs more consistent. An entity shall apply these amendments for annual periods beginning on or after the April 1, 2020 except amendment to Ind AS 116, where an entity who has not yet approved the financial statements for issue before the issuance of these amendments, then the same may be applied for annual reporting periods beginning on or after the April 1, 2019. The Group has decided to apply these amendments effective April 1, 2020. The Group has received rent concession related to COVID - 19 subsequent to year end and is currently assessing its impact. Further, based on the assessment, the other amendments listed above are not expected to have any material impact on the Group's financial statements.

3 Critical estimates and judgements

The preparation of consolidated financial statements requires the use of accounting estimates which by definition will seldom equal the actual results.

This note provides an overview of the areas that involved a higher degree of judgement or complexity, and items which are more likely to be materially adjusted due to estimates and assumptions turning out to be different than those originally assessed. Detailed information about each of these estimates and judgements is included in relevant notes together with information about the basis of calculation for each affected line item in the consolidated financial statements.

The areas involving critical estimates or judgement are:

- Estimation of Defined benefit obligation (Refer Note 41)
- Recoverability of deferred tax assets (Refer Note 36)
- Allowance for doubtful debts (Refer Note 13 and 47)
- Fair value of Investment properties (Refer Note 5)
- Direct tax litigations (Refer Note 38)
- Determination of lease term (Refer Note 4(c))
- Impairment of non-financial assets (Refer Note 2(u))
- Impact of Covid-19 (Refer Note 50)
- Provision for Inventory Obsolescence (Refer Note 2(i) and 11)

4(c) Leases (Contd...)

(iii) Variable Lease Payments

Some property leases contain variable payment terms that are linked to sales generate from a store. For individual stores, up to 100% of lease payments are on the basis of variable payment terms with percentages ranging from 10% to 30% of sales. Variable payment terms are used for a variety of reasons, including minimising the fixed costs base for newly established stores. Variable lease payments that depend on sales are recognised in statement of profit or loss in the period in which the condition that triggers those payments occurs.

A 10% increase in sales across all stores in the company with such variable lease contracts would increase total lease payments by approximately by ₹ 3.59 Lakhs.

(iv) Extension and termination options

Extension and termination options are included in a number of property leases across the Group. These are used to maximise operational flexibility in terms of managing the assets used in the Group's operations. The majority of extension and termination options held are exercisable only by the Group and not by the respective lessor.

(v) Critical judgments in determining the lease term

In determining the lease term, management considers all facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive to exercise an option, or not exercise a termination option. Extension options (or periods after termination options) are only included in the lease term if the lease is reasonably certain to be extended.

For leases of retail stores, the Group considers factors such as historical lease durations and the costs and business disruption required to replace the leased asset.

The Group obtains independent valuations for its investment properties at least annually. The best evidence of fair value is current prices in active market for similar properties.

The fair valuation of investment properties has been determined by accredited independent valuers. The main inputs used are the prevailing market rates and recent sale of similar properties, etc. The fair value measurement is categorised in level 3 fair value hierarchy.

Terms and Conditions:

Transactions are made in ordinary course of business and on normal terms and conditions.

Outstanding balances are unsecured and repayable in cash.

46 Fair Value Measurement:

(i) Financial Instrument by category and hierarchy.

The fair values of the financial assets and liabilities are included at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

1. Fair value of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, other current financial assets, trade payables and other current financial liabilities approximate their carrying amounts largely due to short term maturities of these instruments.
2. Financial instruments with fixed and variable interest rates are evaluated by the Group based on parameters such as interest rates and individual credit worthiness of the counterparty. Based on this evaluation, allowances are taken to account for expected losses of these receivables. Accordingly, fair value of such instruments is not materially different from their carrying amounts.

The fair values for security deposits were calculated based on cash flows discounted using a current lending rate. They are classified as level 3 fair values in the fair value hierarchy due to the inclusion of unobservable inputs including counter party credit risk.

The interest rate on term deposits and non convertible debentures is at the prevailing market rates. Accordingly, fair value of such instrument is not materially different from their carrying amounts.

The interest rate on borrowing is at the prevailing market rates. Accordingly, fair value of such instruments is not materially different from their carrying amounts.

For financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value, the carrying amounts are equal to the fair values.

The Group uses the following hierarchy for determining and disclosing the fair value of financial instruments by valuation technique:

Level 1: quoted (unadjusted) prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: other techniques for which all inputs which have a significant effect on the recorded fair value are observable, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3: techniques which use inputs that have a significant effect on the recorded fair value that are not based on observable market data.

47 Financial Risk Management:

Financial risk management objectives and policies

The Group's financial risk management is an integral part of how to plan and execute its business strategies. the Group's financial risk management policy is set by the Management.

(A) Market Risk

Market risk is the risk of loss of future earnings, fair values or future cash flows that may result from a change in the price of a financial instrument. The value of a financial instrument may change as a result of changes in the interest rates, foreign currency exchange rates, equity prices and other market changes that affect market risk sensitive instruments. Market risk is attributable to all market risk sensitive financial instruments including investments, future committed transactions, foreign currency receivables, payables, borrowings etc.

The Group manages market risk through its finance department (headed by CFO), which evaluates and exercises independent control over the entire process of market risk management. The finance department recommend risk management objectives and policies, which are approved by Senior Management and the Audit Committee. The activities of this department include management of cash resources, implementing hedging strategies for foreign currency exposures like foreign exchange forward contracts, option contracts, borrowing strategies and ensuring compliance with market risk limits and policies.

Market Risk- Interest rate risk.

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of the financial instruments will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. In order to optimize the Group's position with regards to interest income and interest expenses and to manage the interest rate risk, treasury performs a comprehensive corporate interest rate risk management by balancing the proportion of fixed rate and floating rate financial instruments in its total portfolio.

According to the Group interest rate risk exposure is only for floating rate borrowings. For floating rate liabilities, the analysis is prepared assuming the amount of the liability outstanding at the end of the reporting period was outstanding for the whole year. A 50 basis point increase or decrease is used when reporting interest rate risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates."

Exposure to interest rate risk

Particulars	As at March 31, 2020	As at March 31, 2019
Total Borrowings	6,049.91	6,367.18
% of Borrowings out of above bearing variable rate of interest	71.05%	95.44%

Interest rate sensitivity

A change of 50 bps in interest rates would have following Impact on profit before tax

Particulars	2019-2020	2018-2019
50 bp increase- decrease in profits *	21.49	30.38
50 bp decrease- Increase in profits *	(21.49)	(30.38)

* Sensitivity is calculated based on the assumption that amount outstanding as at reporting dates were utilised for the whole financial year.

Market Risk- Foreign currency risk

The Group operates internationally and portion of the business is transacted in several currencies and consequently the Group is exposed to foreign exchange risk through its sales and purchases in various foreign currencies. The Group evaluates exchange rate exposure arising from foreign currency transactions and the Group follows established risk management policies, including the use of derivatives like foreign exchange forward contracts and option contracts to hedge exposure to foreign currency risk.

(B) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of incurring a loss that may arise from a borrower or debtor failing to make required payments. Credit risk arises mainly from trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents, deposit with banks, derivative financial instruments, investments, loan to employee and security deposits. The Group manages and analyses the credit risk for each of its new customers before standard payment and delivery terms and conditions are offered.

Credit risk on cash and cash equivalents, deposit with banks, derivative financial instruments and investment is limited as Group generally deals with banks and financial institutions with high credit ratings assigned by credit rating agencies. Investments primarily include investment in liquid mutual and accredited venture fund.

While loans in the form of security deposits and loan to employees are subjected to the impairment requirement of Ind AS 109, the identified impairment loss was immaterial.

(i) Credit risk management:

The Group assesses on a forward looking basis the expected credit losses associated with its assets carried at amortised cost. For trade receivables, the Group applies the simplified approach permitted by Ind AS 109 Financial Instrument, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the receivables. When determining whether the credit risk of a financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition and when estimating expected credit losses, the Group considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes both quantitative and qualitative information and analysis, based on the Group's historical experience and informed credit assessment and including forward looking information.

Sale to retail customers are required to be settled in cash or using major cards, mitigating credit risk. There are no significant concentrations of credit risk, whether through exposure to individual customers, specific industry sectors or regions.

In respect of sales to export customers, there are no past history of losses, thus the identified expected credit loss was immaterial.

Credit risk for domestic trade receivable is managed by the Group through credit approvals, establishing credit limits and periodic monitoring of the creditworthiness of its customers to which the Group grants credit terms in the normal course of business.

Hedge effectiveness is determined at the inception of the hedge relationship, and through periodic prospective effectiveness assessments to ensure that an economic relationship exists between the hedged item and hedging instrument. The Group enters into hedge relationships where the critical terms of hedging instrument match exactly with the terms of the hedged items, and so a qualitative assessment of effectiveness is performed.

49 Changes in Accounting Policies

Ind AS 116 - Leases

As indicated in note 2(a)(iv) Significant accounting policies, the Group has adopted Ind AS 116 retrospectively from April 01, 2019, but has not restated comparatives for year ended March 31, 2019, as permitted under the specific provisions in the standard.

The reclassifications and the adjustments arising from the new leasing rules are therefore recognised in the opening balance sheet on April 01, 2019. The new accounting policies are disclosed in note 2(f).

On adoption of Ind AS 116, the Group recognised lease liabilities in relation to leases which had previously been classified as 'operating leases' under the principles of Ind AS 17, Leases. These liabilities were measured at the present value of remaining lease payments, discounted using the lessee's incremental borrowing rate as of April 01, 2019. The weighted average lessee's incremental borrowing rate applied to the lease liabilities on April 01, 2019 was 9.00%.

(i) Practical expedients applied

In applying Ind AS 116 for the first time, the Group has used the following practical expedients permitted by the standard:

- applying a single discount rate to a portfolio of leases with reasonably similar characteristics.
- relying on previous assessments on whether leases are onerous as an alternative to performing an impairment review
- there were no onerous contracts as at April 01, 2019
- accounting for operating leases with a remaining lease term of less than 12 months as at April 01, 2019 as short-term leases
- excluding initial direct costs for the measurement of the right-of-use asset at the date of initial application, and
- using hindsight in determining the lease term where the contract contains options to extend or terminate the lease.

The Group has also elected not to reassess whether a contract is, or contains a lease at the date of initial application.

Instead, for contracts entered into before the transition date the Group relied on its assessment made applying Ind AS 17 and Appendix C to Ind AS 17, Determining whether and Arrangement contains a Lease.

(ii) Measurements of lease liabilities:

Particulars	Amount
Operating lease commitments disclosed as at March 31, 2019	301.71
